MAIL ROBBERS MOST DARING GET BIG LOOT

Six Bandits Use Modern Methods to Get Registered Mail Bags

SHOOT TWO IN BATTLE

Lone Bandit Enters Another Train in Idaho Gets Haul
 From Diners

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 8.—Six train robbers, equipped with all modern methods of warfare, apparently had made good their escape today with many thousands of dollars in registered mail taken from the Chicago-New Orleans train on the Illinois Central. The robbers used dynamite and odor bombs, sawed-off shotguns, fuses and searchlights in a thrilling 45-minute gun battle with members of the crew and passengers after the train had been stopped on a trestle near Paxton, 20 miles north of here. They escaped with from two to four sacks of registered mail, leaving six injured, including one passenger.

After obtaining their loot, they fired the mail car, using sacks of second-class matter as the torch, and a checkup of the loot was made difficult. Estimates of the loot varied today. Adolph Germer, chief postal inspector of Chicago, said it was "several thousand dollars," while other sources placed it as high as a million dollars.

The hold-up, evidently carefully planned, was staged near Paxton, shortly after 9 o'clock. Two men boarded the tender of the engine at Paxton. They were not seen at the time by the crew. Four other masked men entered the engine cab a little later. As the train stopped, two walked down to the mail car.
 Two mail clerks, Thomas Baker of Carbondale, Ill., and Benjamin Bovinetti, Mattoon, Ill., tried to fight off the bandits, but their efforts were futile.

"Open that door or we'll blow your head off," was the command.
 Arthur Moon, a porter, stepped out

GLENDALE HUNTERS HELD UP BY MAN WHO WEARS STAR

Four Glendale quail hunters and 17 hunters from Los Angeles, all members of the same party, were arrested Sunday and fined $5 apiece for hunting on posted property at Lan caster. The Glendale members of the party were R. E. Olin, compiler of the "Universal Film Co.; Harry Brown, electrician for the same company; "Speed" Hollecker and Gus Wangenheim.

According to one of the members of the party the arrest was made by a real old-time deputy sheriff with a long, dreary, drooping mustache and a gun that looked as big as a water main. They say the deputy advanced with his gun pointed and ordered them to throw up their hands and drop their guns. They were taken before a magistrate who assessed them $5 apiece. "Nobody was hurt."

WATCH BOOTLEGGERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Prohibition agents have been instructed to watch closely for any flood of bootleg liquor at today's elections. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes said. No additional agents have been employed but agents in various cities are working in close co-operation with the police.

Hundreds Take Advantage of Opportunity to Secure Press $1000 Accident Protection

Glendale people by the hundreds are taking advantage of the accident insurance policies offered by The Glendale Daily Press to its readers.
 Yesterday's mail brought 47 registrations for the $1000 policy. The first mail this morning brought 27 registrations.

It is protection against accident while traveling as a fare-paying passenger in a railroad train, electric car or motor bus that The Press is giving you absolutely without charge. If you are riding or driving in an automobile and are killed your beneficiary will receive $1000

Is this not worth while?

There is no charge for this policy. It is given to you absolutely without cost. If you are a yearly subscriber to the Press and Express and agree to pay the regular rates each month, 65 cents, you will receive a full paid up accident insurance policy for $1000. The payment by you of your subscription each month keeps the policy in force.

It is not a premium that The Press is offering. It is protection for your family and whether you are an old subscriber or a new one you are entitled to receive this. It is, however, necessary to sign the registration blank. This information must be sent to the National Casualty company so it can issue the policy. The insurance will cover persons between the ages of 15 years and 70 years. No other payments are required. No examination is necessary.

Do You Know That You Are Two-thirds the World Power?

You'll take a grip on yourself after you read the article in "The Listening Post" on the editorial page this evening. You will see that "You and I" are two-thirds of the power and the "Other Fellow" is one-third. And perhaps you'll wonder if you are doing your share.

Henry James touches on the mail robberies in his comments, and Dr. Frank Crane tries to make head and tail out of the exchange muddle.

That America is for peace, is the tenor of the leading editorial, and it is a straightforward exposition of the American viewpoint. The people do not want further wars, they are horrible and without excuse. The glamor of war has gone and this editorial treats the subject with dignity and good sense.

There are other features, and up in the left-hand corner, Diogenes sheds his lantern's light on this saying: "Since the creation of the world there has been no tyrant like temperance, and no slaves so cruelly treated as his."
 Read the editorial page tonight and let it become a habit.

BRITISH CRISIS

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A climax in the Irish situation will be reached Tuesday. On that day the Ulster cabinet will confer with Premier Lloyd George on the proposed settlement requiring certain concessions by that district.
 Should the Ulsterites refuse to consider the compromise proposition it was believed certain Lloyd George would carry out his threat to resign.

Late News Flashes

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The stork won a race with a taxicab when a child was born to Mrs. J. O'Leary ten minutes before she reached the hospital.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—One-half ton of excess poundage has been lost by men and women attending Health Commissioner Copeland's anti-fat classes.

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—Governor Minoru Saito of Korea today became a strong possibility for appointment as premier of Japan to succeed the assassinated Premier Hara.

ROME, Nov. 8.—Monsignor Joseph C. Wilging of the Helena diocese has been appointed a secret chamberlain supernumerary, it was announced today at the vatican.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—John Wallace Riddle of Minnesota, former ambassador to Russia, has been chosen ambassador to Argentina, according to information here today.

ANTIGO, Wis., Nov. 8.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. August Tautges, near here, were burned to death today when fire destroyed their farm home. The children were 10, 8 and 6 years old.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—Henry Ford's railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, today sought a reduction in passenger rates. Members of the utilities commission will not oppose the reduction, they indicated today.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—Al Webb, identified by police officers as an escaped prisoner from the Minnesota state penitentiary, was arrested here today charged with looting the "poor box" in the Catholic cathedral. The man was still in the church when the officers captured him.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Former President Wilson has made a good recovery from his recent setback and probably will be able to attend the services in honor of the unknown soldier at Arlington national cemetery on Armistice day, his physician, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, said today.

TOKIO, Nov. 8.—The body of former Premier Hara, assassinated at Tokio last week, arrived at Morioka, the dead premier's birthplace, on a special train at 10:30 a.
 m. today. All night long the funeral train rolled through stations where platforms were crowded with waiting throngs of mourners, who gathered to pay a last tribute to the dead leader.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The first blizzard of the year
 swept out of the northwest, over central states today.
 Snow started falling in Minnesota Monday and had worked south through Wisconsin and portions of northern Illinois today. Six inches of snow was reported in some Wisconsin cities. The weather bureau predicted the snow would be general by night as far south as Kansas and Missouri and would spread over portions of Iowa and Michigan and Indiana.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 8.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, 47-year-old Pole, and heavyweight wrestling champion, retained his title here last night by throwing Earl Cad-dock, Walnut, Iowa, former champion, in two straight falls. Although completely outwrestled during the first hour, the Pole finally picked up the Iowan, 50 pounds lighter, and dropped him on the mat, stunned him by falling on him, and won the first fall in 1:20:20. The Iowan had not recovered when he came back for the second fall, and was pinned down in 24:11.

WATER SITUATION REPORTED SERIOUS

F. A. Newport and Dr. H. B. Crocker appeared before the council Monday night and asked that some action be taken to supply residents of the east side in the vicinity of Verdugo road with water. Conditions in that section are acute on account of the lack of water, petitioners informed the council, and they asked some action at once to relieve the situation.
 After considerable discussion, during which the entire water situation as regards the Verdugo road district was explained, City Manager Reeves was requested to meet with Mr. Newport and further discuss the matter with the intention of supplying water service.

MISS BRENNAN IS TO TELL OF SOBBING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Another flurry in the Roscoe Arbuckle case had passed over today. Kate Brennan, witness for the state in its prosecution of Arbuckle, appeared before the grand jury here last night and satisfied both the grand jury and the district attorney that there had been nothing irregular in her conversation with defense attorneys. The state charged in court yesterday that Miss Brennan had been "approached" by attorneys for Arbuckle after they learned she was to be a witness for the state. Miss Brennan's testimony, according to the district attorney, will be that she heard a girl sobbing in Arbuckle's room the afternoon he was alleged to have injured Miss Rappe.

DORAN STREET MAY GET NEW LIGHTS

Nathan Rigdon conferred with City Manager Reeves and Superintendent of plant and production Dietrich today regarding ornamental street lights for Doran street between Central avenue and Brand boulevard. He was informed that the installation of the lights on this street as requested met with their approval and if the property owners are willing to pay to have them installed, the city will in all probability take action to order the necessary work.
 "Petitions will be circulated among the property owners to be presented to the council at an early meeting," said Mr. Rigdon after his conference with Reeves and Dietrich.
 "This section," said Mr. Rigdon, who has built several houses on Doran street, "is one of the fastest growing in the city and the installation of ornamental lights is all that is needed to make it one of the prettiest streets in Glendale."

ANTI-BEER BILL TO VOTE NOVEMBER 18

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The senate will vote on the conference report on the anti-beer bill at noon, November 18, under an agreement reached today in the senate between wet and dry forces. Senator Stanley, Kentucky, whose anti-search and seizure amendment has been the bone of contention in the measure, denied that the advocates of the provision have any intention of conducting a filibuster against the bill.

MEMBERSHIP TAKES NEW JUMP AFTER TODAY'S SESSION

Many Matters Are Before Directors for Good of City, Protests Also

Fifteen new members were added to the roll of the Glendale chamber of commerce at its weekly meeting at noon today, bringing the total membership up to 1065 live, active, enthusiastic boosters. The following names were added to the roll of the chamber today:
 Army and Navy Supply store, Jas.
 A. Benjamin, Ralph L. Bown, William Brewer, W. C. Carr, Thaddeus
 C. Cooper, Independent Lumber Co.,
 J. C. Livingston, T. W. McConnell,
 Monarch Auto Supply Co., Neisord
 Shop, A. C. Shirley, George T. Smith, Mrs. M. Frances Whitney and Mrs.
 Walter A. Babb.

A communication was received from Mr. Hewitt favorable to the Hull Art Co., of Los Angeles, which organization is desirous of finding a location in Glendale. This concern wishes to sell $50,000 worth of its stock in Glendale.

A letter was received from L. W.
 Chobe, suggesting that, as Glendale is to be represented at the Pasadena Rose Tournament on New Year's, it would be well to place orders for certain growers without delay.

Through a communication, the Glendale chamber of commerce was invited to become a member of the California Development Association, which has for its object the development of closer community interest throughout the state.

That the Glendale chamber of commerce start a campaign for the planting of California poppies in Glendale was the request in a communication received from a local booster.

A communication signed by "A Taxpayer," was received, in which the taxpayer protested against the vacant lots of Glendale being rented to Los Angeles automobile concerns who come in direct competition with the local automobile firms.

GLENDALE POST HAS GREAT PLANS FOR PRESS READERS

Friday Morning Edition to be Worth Preserving for Many Years

Advertisers in Glendale are taking advantage of the excellent opportunity to get into some 6,000 homes in this city and its environs by taking in the American Legion number of the Glendale Daily Press to be distributed throughout Glendale, to some 4,000 regular subscribers to the Glendale Daily Press and to other homes where the Glendale Daily Press has not yet made its appearance as a daily caller.
 The Glendale Daily Press is going to give 25 per cent of the gross receipts of the issue to the Glendale Post of the American Legion of California, to go toward their building fund. The Post officers and members are giving every cooperation in the publication of this historical edition, and it will be a credit to the Post and to the community.

In this edition will be stories of the local activities of the exservice men here on Armistice Day, together with special articles by members of the Post. Another section will deal with the funeral ceremony for the Unknown Hero of the World War, and another with the forthcoming arms conference.

Advertisers will do well to get their copy in early, not only adding the Legion Post to build their home, but in producing a newspaper that will be something worth preserving. It will be illustrated throughout.

MOONEY CASE WILL BE TAKEN UP SOON

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The Thomas J. Mooney case again is on its way to a hearing in the higher courts of California. Attorney Byron C. Parker, representing Mooney, announced today that he has practically completed a brief for presentation to the district court of appeals. The brief contains approximately 200 pages, over half of which are devoted to a detailed review of the now famous case. Parker said it would charge that there are insufficient facts to warrant holding Mooney; that there is plain evidence that persons other than Warren K. Billings and Thomas Mooney were responsible for the explosion; that there was a criminal conspiracy to convict Mooney.

INTEREST KEEN IN LEGION'S CONTEST

Viola Yorba is still leading in the American Legion queen contest that will close Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, when the votes will be counted and the name of the winner announced from the platform of the Sheesley shows. The standing of the contestants today is as follows:
 Viola Yorba, 39,425; Dorothy Morton, 37,950; Mrs. Warren Roberts, 26,475; Winifred Sternberg, 22,800;
 Louise Moniot, 18,000; Ellen Wheel-on, 12,800; Florence Kriskie, 11,000; Lucille Park, 4,100 and Helen DeLanie, 2,500.

WHITE STAR CENTER TO OPEN ON BRAND DECEMBER 20TH

Be One of Finest Public Markets in This Part of State Says Casswell

Plans are being made for opening the White Star Center at Brand boulevard and San Fernando road about December 20. Claude Casswell, lessee of the building, says that the White Star Center will be one of the finest public markets in Southern California. George B. Carr, owner of the building, plans to have a concession in the building and sell custom-made shirts.

Practically all concessions have been rented and will be ready as soon as the building is completed. Mr. Cass-well will operate the White Star Meat Market. In addition to the meat market Mr. Casswell will install a complete refrigerating plant. Mr. Cass-well will continue to operate his meat market at the corner of Broadway and Maryland street under the name of the White Star Market Store No. 1.

F. W. Franklin will occupy another concession in the new market with a complete line of fancy and staple groceries. He will also retain his present store at Broadway and Maryland street.

From all indications the Bakerite Baking Company will occupy a large space in the new market with a complete bakery and sales department.
 In the event that the Bakerite company does take space in the market they will install a complete bakery of the most modern type. Nothing but white tile ovens will be used and all pies, pastries and bread sold in the market will be baked there fresh daily. Mr. Casswell, speaking of the possibility of the Bakerite Company installing a plant in the new market said that such a bakery as that company was planning would be an asset to any business.

Altogether plans for the new enterprise indicate that only first class goods will be handled in the market and that every concessionaire will be a man of large experience in the selling of his line and prepared to give prompt, clean and efficient service to the people of Glendale.

COUNCIL WILL PUT IN SLUDGE SYSTEM

Believes Best for Purpose, Though Filtration System is Advocated

Messrs. Olmstead and Gillelan, and the sewer commission appeared before the city council Monday night in response to a written request for them to attend and discuss the sewer situation.

Several members of the commission spoke at length regarding the situation what steps had been taken toward installing sewers. The Activated Sludge sewer disposal system proposed for Glendale was discussed. Mr.
 Olmstead advocated that instead of the city installing the Activated Sludge system, a system of filtration would be satisfactory.

Olmstead was asked for details regarding his proposed system and replied that he had never seen the filtration system in operation but thought it would prove satisfactory if installed.

According to City Manager Reeves, the Activated Sludge system has proven successful in every city where it is installed and has been endorsed by the state board of health. The system has been investigated by the city and will in all probability be installed. It was pointed out that the installation of filtration system would be an experiment and if it failed, the city would be out considerable money with nothing to show for the expenditure except a system that did not handle the sewerage satisfactorily.

GANGWAY! OH DOC.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 8.—Following the inspection of the Schlitz Brewing company premises here today by Federal Prohibition Director James A. Stone, the permit for sale of beer was approved and the dispensing of real beer will begin here tomorrow.

ROGERS GAINED LIMELIGHT IN MURDER CASE

Brilliant Attorney Declares Setter Dog Knows How Kennedy Died

ERBSTEIN SEES HIM

Says He Has Made Investigation of Happenings at Beverly Glen Aug. 5

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—"Before tomorrow's dawn brightens over the skies of Los Angeles I will have the answer to the Kennedy murder." This was the assertion made to the United Press today by Earl Rogers, once one of California's most brilliant criminal attorneys, loitering about the corridors of the hall of justice and observing the preliminaries to the trials of Arthur C. Burch and Madalynne Obenchain, charged with killing John Belton Kennedy.

"I have come to Los Angeles in response to an unusual request, and from an unusual source," Rogers said.
 "I've made an investigation along new lines as to what happened out at Beverly Glen just before midnight of August 5, when young Kennedy met his death. There is a setter dog who would tell a weird, ghastly story if he could only speak. I would to God I knew as much about what happened out in that lonely glen as does the setter dog. By tonight I shall know almost exactly what it was that the setter dog saw at Beverly Glen."

Charles Erbstein, chief counsel for Madalynne Obenchain, was informed of Rogers' statement to the United Press. He immediately sought out Rogers for a conference. Erbstein would not say whether or not he placed faith in Rogers' assertions.

DEMANDS TRIAL BY JUDGE LOWE'S COURT

FILM COMPANY HERE PUT ON PICTURE OF LOCAL PEOPLE

Popular Vote to Select Local Woman to Take Leading Role in Picture

Everyone look pleasant, please, and watch your step while walking on the streets of Glendale during the next week. The Addis Film Company will be in town taking pictures of local people, business houses, offices and industries and of the parade on Armistice Day. The picture will be shown at the T. D. and L. Theater on Wednesday and Thursday, November 23 and 24.

Glendaleans will also have an opportunity to take part in a real motion picture production. "The New York Financier" to be produced in Glendale by the Addis Film Company with the Glendale contest. The leading lady of the picture is to be chosen by popular vote. Every ticket purchased at the T. D. and L. theater starting today entitles the purchaser to one vote for a leading lady. These tickets will be counted on Sunday night and the winner named. Work will start on filming the picture at once. The local scenes and interiors of Glendale business houses will make up the background for an interesting and clean-cut plot.

The film company also announces that it will have a Charlie Chaplin contest on the streets next Saturday afternoon and all of the small boys who think that they can imitate the comedian are invited to enter. There will be three prizes and all of the boys taking part in the contest will be filmed and the picture shown at the T. D. and L. theater at a special children's matinee to be given Wednesday, November 23. Boys wishing to enter the contest are asked to apply at the box office of the T. D. and L. theater.

IVANHOE BRIDGE CAUSE ACCIDENTS

Structure is Too Narrow for Proper Passage of Vehicles

A number of accidents have occurred recently on the bridge at Ivanhoe on the central automobile route to Los Angeles. A contributing cause of these accidents is the narrowness of the bridge. This structure is hardly wide enough for safety during the hours of the day and it is altogether too narrow for use at night. The glare of headlights of approaching machines makes it very difficult for the motorist to see just where to drive. The curve in the bridge adds to the difficulty of night driving.

A Glendale motorist reports that several days ago he was going to Los Angeles at an early morning hour, and there was a tractor or some similar piece of machinery left in the middle of the road without a warning light, just at the north end of the bridge. In the dusk, though his lights were burning, he did not see the tractor until he was almost upon it. It was only by a very hurried swing of the machine to one side that a serious accident was avoided. In this instance the narrowness of the bridge almost resulted in the machine going over the bank.

ALUMINUM SHOW AT NEALE & GREGG

Miss Florence Haenselman is presiding over quite an interesting display and demonstration of the aluminum goods put out by the Wearers Co., at the Neale & Gregg Hardware Co., in this city. With broken sections of the ware she is able to demonstrate the wearing qualities of the goods and its many virtues. As a special attraction she is offering an aluminum frying pan for $1.19 that ordinarily sells for $2.

One of the interesting features of the display and demonstration is a roaster and baker for use on top of a gas stove instead of in the oven. A great saving in fuel is claimed for it, also the advantage of being able to cook on Wednesday, when a full meal will be cooked by Miss Haenselman.

MYSTERY IN CASE KIDNAPPED CHILD

Eight Year Old Girl Sought Here After Phone Call Here Monday

Has anyone in Glendale seen a small girl about eight years old, with red hair and two front teeth? Her name is Juanita May MacGiel and she was kidnapped from Los Angeles last Thursday at noon, according to her foster father, A. R. MacGiel, who was at the police station Monday night to ask the Glendale police to help in the search for his daughter. According to MacGiel's story, the girl is his adopted daughter. She was adopted in Kansas City and brought to Los Angeles. MacGiel said that the woman who was formerly caring for the child had taken her from school at noon Thursday and that is the last the foster parents heard of the child until yesterday, when a woman who said she was a resident of Glendale phoned the parents and said that Juanita was playing with her children and had asked her to telephone Mrs. MacGiel and tell her where she was. The woman refused to give her name or address as she said she did not want to be mixed up in the case. The local telephone exchange had no record of a call having been made to the MacGiel residence in Los Angeles from Glendale at any time Monday.

BUSINESS LOTS IN CITY BRING $17,700

Three business lots at and near the corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard have just been purchased by investors from Los Angeles for the sum of $17,700. This deal includes the corner lot at the southwest corner of Park and Brand and the lot immediately adjoining on the south, and one lot on the east side of Brand several lots south of Park. It is the plan of the buyers to begin the erection within a short time of a brick business block on the 100 feet at the southwest corner of this intersection. This building, it is understood, will be of two stories. There will be four storerooms on the main floor and apartments and offices above. This building will be strictly modern and it is understood that work on the construction will be started as soon as arrangements can be made.

MINOR DETAIL

How is this for the casual mother? The other day a friend of the family met her and remarked, "I hear your daughter is married. What is her new name?"

"I can't tell you," replied mother, with a shrug of her shoulders. "I was so annoyed when she told me she was married I didn't even ask who the man was!"

SHEESLEY'S SHOWS OPEN MONDAY NIGHT FOR ALL WEEK RUN FOR LEGION POST

PRINCESS TESSIE

The grand carnival—Sheesley's big shows—opened Monday night in a blaze of electric lights and flaming colors. Hundreds of Glendale residents saw the novel and daring exhibitions. Mr. Sheesley and all of the little Sheesleys did themselves "proud" in the way they entertained and they promise to put on a complete change of program every night. The boys of the American Legion under whose auspices the shows are being held, also were very much interested in the lappels of their coats they let everyone know they were "also present."

The carnival entrance is at the corner of Harvard and Orange streets, facing eastward. The first thing a person sees is the "hot dog" stand. Just beyond this on the right is the teah-pin alley, in which the operator throws the balls instead of rolling them. Everything from a baby carriage to a Ford is given to the fellow who knocks down the most pins.

The next show is "Jauntel—The League of Nations." This is an attraction made even more attractive by pretty dancing girls in all kinds of fluffy ruffles and lots of other things. Immediately southwest of the foregoing feature is the Side show. This attraction consists of a number of different shows. These include the "Human Picture Gallery," "Electricia," "Princess Garvett," "Prof. Hammond," "Jolly Edna," the fat girl who, the splendor said without a smile, weighs 600 pounds; the boxing monkeys, and the glass blower, who alone is worth the price of admission.

A little farther on is the twister, one of the funniest things on the lot, and "all for 10 cents." Then comes Peggy, the little wonder girl, and the autodrome, which, although not strictly new, is a very good attraction. In this bowl Capt. H. Haines and Miss Olive Hager do some hair-raising stunts. Miss Hager rides a motorbike on the vertical walls of the bowl with her hands off the handlebars.

One of the best attractions on the lot is the trained wild animal show. This show has a program all its own. First comes Miss Milla Silina, who does some clever stunts with her four trained bears. Next, Princess Tessie is announced, being the first woman who has ever been able to perform in the same cage at the same time. The Princess puts her leopards and pumas through some clever feats. Next comes Capt. John Hart, who fearlessly puts four manmoth Nubian and African lions through various hair-raising stunts. One of these animals killed his former trainer in Salt Lake City about three weeks ago, the announcer said. Then there is the merry-go-round with its hundreds of pretty lights, its galloping horses and music. The minstrel show with its singing, bounding performers, is a mirth-provoking attraction. The ferris wheel comes in for its share of attention, as do the lookatorium, the shooting gallery, several palmists, weighing machine, horse-racing device, where "three prizes are given for every race."

To take in all the attractions would consume an entire evening, but after once entering the grounds the pleasure-seeker can make his selection. From entrance to exit the carnival is a riot of fun.

"About a million" of the Glendale Press carriers were guests of Mr. Sheesley at the opening last night. There were "nearly a million," Mr. Sheesley said, if noise is taken as an indication of numbers.

Heirs Fight For Ogau, One of South Sea Islands

ARVADA, Colo., Nov. 8.—A vigorous legal battle for a portion of the huge estate which includes the cannibal island of Ogau, one of the Fiji group, will be waged by Mrs. E. P. Nolte of this village, before it passes into the possession of Mrs. Louis Landrock of Omaha, Neb., who it is claimed, has already left for the South Sea island to establish her claim to the estate.

The estate, surrounded by romance, and handed down by Prince Wolfert, Wobbert of Holland nearly three centuries ago, is finding new claimants in various sections of the country, and international complications may develop before an agreement is reached that will result in a satisfactory and equitable distribution of the legacy, the value of which is estimated to exceed $10,000,000.

In addition to the money involved, the title of "Queen of the Cannibal Isle" hangs in the balance, awaiting settlement of the vast estate. Mrs. Nolte, wife of a prosperous rancher here, declares that she has equal claims with Mrs. Landrock to the island, with its great groves of coconut, pineapple and breadfruit palms, coral reefs gleaming pink along the shores and plantations of sugar and rubber trees, all within the princely domain.

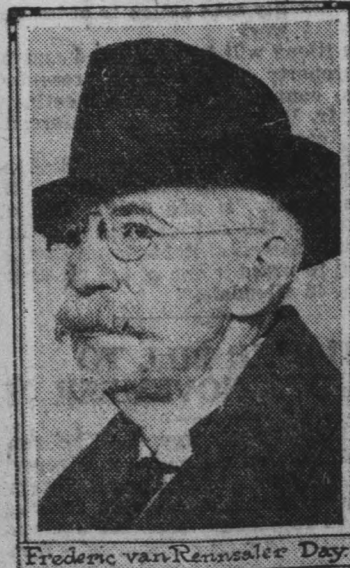

A romance that shows princesses revolted at parental decrees long before the days of the modern suffragist is responsible for the contest that threatens now to break all records for claims and counter-claims in the annals of disputed inheritances.

Princess Wobbert of the origin of the $10,000,000 estate as related by Mrs. Nolte tells how Prince Wolfert Wobbert, angered because his daughter Anneka persisted in her love affair and married out of royalty, bequeathed her share of his island possession to the "seventh generation of her descent." That was in 1664.

Mrs. Landrock, who with her husband is reported to have left her Omaha home and started for the island of Ogau, despite rumors that cannibals infest the South Sea island, is said to be of the "seventh generation."

Mrs. Nolte declares that she is also of the "seventh generation" from the Princess Anneka, who relinquished a throne for love. When Mrs. Nolte learned that Mrs. Landrock was leaving the United States for Ogau to claim the estate she announced her

BUSINESS WOMEN TO HOLD MEETING

Prof. Harley Will Address Women on Matters of Importance

Members of the Glendale Business and Professional Women's Club are looking forward with interest to the meeting this evening, when they will be addressed by Prof. J. Eugene Harley, who for three years held the Carnegie scholarship for international law at Harvard University and who is now head of the department of political science at the University of Southern California.

Few men are better informed on international law or in the modern trend of European politics. He is the author of "The League of Nations" and "The New International Law," and will not only give a clear idea of the ground to be covered by the International Disarmament Conference, but will forecast the international relationship of the United States after the conference.

The meeting will be held in the girls' gymnasium of Glendale high school and the business session, at which the organization of a gymnasium class will be effected, will open at 7 o'clock.

At the last regular meeting of the club 30 enrolled for gymnasium work and a goodly number of applications have since come in. The class is being organized at the request of the club as a part of the night school work at Glendale high school and there will be no extra charge to members except that they will be expected to provide their own gymnasium suits. The instructor, the use of the gym, the shower baths and dressing rooms, will be provided free of cost.

A fine teacher has been secured from U. S. C. and every girl or woman who wishes to take advantage of this great opportunity, should be on hand at the girls' gymnasium Tuesday night at 7 o'clock to register.

It is expected that Prof. Harley will begin speaking about 8 o'clock. Members will be privileged to invite any business or professional women interested in the club who are considering membership, for it will be an exceptional opportunity to learn the plans and purposes of the organization. At the business session of officers and committee chairmen will be called upon for reports.

WEST GLENDALE HAS WORD TO SAY ABOUT NEW HIGH SITE

Objection Given to New Site Suggesting Build on Present Site of High School

Members of the West Glendale Improvement Association met Monday evening at the Glendale high school. An informal discussion of proposed high school sites was held in the absence of the president, Miss Barrett. Albert C. Read was asked to preside, and Alton Goodale acted as secretary.

General opposition was expressed to the suggested plan of voting instructions to the "board of trustees" to call a bond election for $200,000, and leaving the choice of the site to be voted upon at the time of the election, the objection being that many of the residents of the northwest are too new to have acquired a vote and the east side of the city would therefore outvote them.

L. C. Wolfe, who was one of the speakers, said that he was opposed to all of the sites, that the initial purchase of land would be but the beginning of the noise around the neck of the taxpayer. This plan, he said, called for the scrapping of the present buildings, to which he was opposed; that a similar equipment on a new site would not cost less than $500,000, or, with the cost of this land added, $700,000, and there would be the added expense of planting and caring for the large campus.

His substitute plan was to hold the present site and build on the Louise street side north of the present manual arts building as was originally planned, and by the time the further expansion is needed, to build another high school in the northwest, and possibly another in the northeast or the south end of the city. In the meantime, he argued, there would be opportunity to consider whether Eagle Rock is seriously determined to pull out and build a high school of its own, or annexing to Los Angeles, and also time to the northern district of Monte Vista, Tu Janga and La Crescenta to determine whether they wish to build for themselves or remain a part of the union high school district.

Mr. Read favored action to make the high school a part of the Glendale city schools if it could be done without injustice. Mr. Wolfe said if Eagle Rock should withdraw, the district would have to repay its investment in this high school by payments distributed over a term of years.

Mrs. Knox, who stated that she and Mr. Knox owned property in Tu Janga and Glendale, deprecated any selfish policy on the part of Tu Janga of trying to influence the selection of a site and expressed the opinion that with 2500 residents in that territory the time is not far distant when they will want their own high school.

Mr. Goodale endorsed the points made by Mr. Wolfe and agreed with Mr. Wolfe's contention that the fact of a straw vote for a new site two years ago should not at this time cut off consideration of the retention of the present site. T. M. Barrett also endorsed the opinions expressed by Mr. Wolfe.

EASY ENOUGH

The cripple thumped his crutch on the ground as he confronted his lawyer. "Heavens, man, your bill is out of control," he exclaimed. "You are taking four-fifths of my damages. I never heard of such extortion!"

"I furnished the skill, the eloquence and the necessary legal learning for your case," said the lawyer coolly.

"Yes," said the client, "but I furnished the case itself."

"Bosh!" sneered the lawyer. "Anybody could fall down a coal hole."

JUDGE COX NO LET UP IN AUTO DEATHS

Suggests All Who Drive Cars Be Given Tryout Examination

SANTA ANA, Nov. 8.—Judge J. B. Cox, Santa Ana's famous justice who is no respecter of persons when it comes to speeding sentences, told the Los Angeles City club that traffic accidents will continue and increase unless a law is adopted whereby all operators of motor vehicles must pass examinations before being allowed to drive a car on a highway.

"I have just read an account of traffic accidents in Los Angeles during the month of October," Judge Cox told the city club members. "This report shows that 43 persons died as the results of automobile and street car accidents."

"What else do you expect? Anybody may drive a car regardless of qualifications. Over 1,200,000 have operators' licenses in California and not one of them has been examined. Some are paralyzed, some are deaf, some are partly blind, some are mere children and some are near the century mark."

"I would suggest that all persons desirous of driving be examined. Make them show that they understand their machine and the rules of the road. Charge for the license and make that fee pay the examination cost."

"Anybody could fall down a coal hole."

LUMBER COMPANY SOON OPEN YARDS

E. F. Heisser, manager for the Independent Lumber company, which will open soon at the corner of Doran and San Fernando roads, states that the stock is on its way to Glendale and is expected here this week. Just as soon as the lumber arrives the erection of the various structures for the company will be started. The company expects to be ready for business about November 15. E. F. Holt, who for several years has had charge of the Butte County Lumber company at Gridley, Calif., has been engaged as general manager.

The lumber will be shipped to Glendale from this company's own mills in Washington on a complete stock of building materials of all kinds will be kept in connection with this yard. This will be electrically operated and will turn out all kinds of first class mill work.

MISS SHARPE'S ROOM WINS FIRST PRIZE

The campaign for members of the Intermediate Parent-Teacher association is now in full swing. Monday afternoon the picture which is to be held by the room whose pupils have secured the largest enrollment of mothers, was awarded to the room of Miss Gladys Sharpe, teacher of B 7-2s. From time to time the percentage of enrollment will be refigured and whenever any other room gets ahead of Miss Sharpe's room, the picture will be theirs so long as they maintain supremacy. A flag has been offered the room that secures the largest percentage of enrollment of fathers and that will be awarded in the near future.

BRIEF HISTORY

A schoolgirl was required to write 200 words about a motor car. She submitted the following: "My uncle bought a motor car. He was out riding in the country when it busted going up a hill. The other 180 words are what my uncle said when he was walking back to town, but I know you wouldn't want me to repeat them."

MOTION PICTURES IN ALL JURY TRIALS

Alabama Federal Judge Would Have Phonograph at Trials Too

DENVER, Nov. 8.—Motion pictures of jury trials with phonograph records giving the spoken proceedings of the trial were advocated by Federal Judge Henry D. Clayton, Alabama, before the local bar association at a banquet here last night. This idea occurred to him, Clayton said, many times while trying to review a trial that no appeal court could get close to.

"I try to be a humane judge, but it is very difficult when a mass of printed matter is all that appears," he declared. With motion pictures and spoken testimony reproduced before the higher court, Judge Clayton believes better results could be obtained.

EDUCATED MULE IS GUEST AT SCHOOL

The educated mule and the educated dog performing at the Glendale theater in spite of their erudition went to school Tuesday. They reached the intermediate just before it was to be dismissed for the noon hour and received a warm greeting. There seemed to be no disposition on their part to imitate the illustrious example of the lamb as "white as snow" except that they were perfectly willing to have "the children laugh and play." The rider of the mule did not exhibit the duplicity of Mary who pretended not to know that the lamb was following her, and probably really enjoyed the confiding creature and subjected it to the insult of being turned out. The educated mule and the educated dog wisely stayed out and themselves did the enticing of the children to the Glendale theater.

MODERN DON JUAN GOES TO TRIAL NOW

After Two Years Landru Will Face Trial for Doing Away With Widows

VERSAILLES, France, Nov. 8.—Henri Landru, the 20th century John Duan, went on trial here at noon today. Known as the "Bluebeard of Gambais Villa," Landru was to plead to the charge of murdering 11 of the 283 women of all ages who are alleged to have become betrothed to him. The trial, which in France far overshadowed the Washington arms conference, got under way after an investigation lasting two years and a half of the strangest case in modern criminal history.

Landru, 52 years of age, with heavy features and a shaggy beard, in fact, the exact antithesis of the legendary Don Juan—will be pictured by the prosecution as having lured a veritable army of women, mostly wealthy widows ranging in age from 20 to 60, for their fortunes. Matrimonial advertisements are alleged to have been the agency through which he worked.

Carefully groomed and fondling his prized full beard, which he had permitted to be trimmed as a concession to the big event, Landru appeared in court shortly before his case was called. He took a seat in the center of the room and, with the assistance of the chief attorney, began examining the voluminous documents which will be employed by the prosecution.

BCY SCOUT BENEFIT T. D. & L. WEDNESDAY

So he leaves his mother with "Love" and "Hope" and goes forth to meet "Experience."

Will be at the T. D. and L. theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Richard Barthelmess is the featured player, supported by Marjorie Daw. Wednesday is benefit day for the Boy Scouts. Charlie Chaplin's "The Idle Class" and Rex Ingram's "Hearts Are Trumps" close their engagement to night.

TOO MANY CATS IN THIS MAN'S BEDROOM

SANTA ANA, Nov. 8.—Jack Ducommun, restaurant man of Huntington Beach, declares he was compelled to sleep with three or four cats which his wife kept in the house at all times. Finally he tired of this alleged mistreatment and today filed suit for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Leulla Ducommun. Aside from this feline incident which he says became unbearable, Ducommun charges his wife was insanely jealous and this jealousy forced him to give up his position, that she would not allow him to ride in her automobile, and that she objected to his sending money to his children born of a former marriage.

Clay Hole, Center of Controversy Over Man's Right to Vote in Election

JACKSON, Ky., Nov. 8.—Six men are dead following an election day fight at Clay Hole, Ky., ten miles from here. The dead are George Allen, Leslie Cole, Cleveland Cole, Tom Miller, George McIntosh and John Robins.

The voting place at Clay Hole, a village of 100 population, is in a school house. Meager reports did not say whether or not any arrests were made. Roberts was told the shooting started over contest of a voter's right to cast his ballot. Miller and McIntosh were republican judges in the precinct. Men rushed into the polling place and the shooting began. When the smoke had cleared away six men were lifeless on the floor. There has been intense feeling in the election, especially in the contest between partisans of Sam Cockrill, democrat and John Candrill, republican, candidates for sheriff.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—The bitterly fought partisan election here today was marked by the probable fatal wounding of a man and serious injury to a woman voter when a policeman is alleged to have fired several shots during an altercation at the polls.

Truths in Epigram

You find people ready enough to do the Samaritan, without the oil and twopenny.
—Sydney Smith (1769-1845).
Whatever makes men good Christians, makes them good citizens.—Daniel Webster (1782-1852).
Since the creation of the world there has been no tyrant like intemperance, and no slaves so cruelly treated as his.—William Lloyd Garrison (1805-1879).

AMERICA FOR PEACE

There is no mistaking the sentiment of the people of the United States concerning war. The sentiment has been expressed too often to allow any chance for misunderstanding or misconception.
Plain as a thought may be made in words, fervid as it must be when born out of agony of soul, the verdict has come that war must cease. The cost is too great; too great in lives, in financial burden. And nothing is won by war. The victor loses. Humanity loses.

This month, at the behest of President Harding the disarmament conference is to be held. Solemn and important will be the duties of the delegates; particularly of the American delegates. It is natural that initial moves should be regarded as for, them to suggest. Out of the suggestion might come the whole tenor of proceedings.

The mere calling of the conference was a step in the direction of peace. Shall that step be the first of the journey towards the goal? That it may be the beginning of such a journey is the hope of millions.

The people do not want war; the people of America, of England, of France; the people of Germany, no less. All have learned to look upon war with horror. Then why the possibility of future conflict? Secret diplomacy, not carrying out the popular will. Secret compacts, meaning the pledge of good faith between two powers, involving bad faith towards all other powers.

Charges are made, and confirmed that armament manufacturers encourage deliberately the promotion of war. They do this by citing as necessarily correct, the belief that wars are inevitable. They misrepresent the attitude of the several nations concerning armament and preparedness. It is their purpose to make each nation think every other nation is assuming a posture of aggression; is holding wicked designs against neighbors.

Any propaganda that seeks to make Americans appear in favor of war for themselves, or for Europe, or for any part of the realm of civilization, is false and wicked. It represents not business acumen but a selfishness that could not be defended even were it for the purpose of encouraging business in itself legitimate. Certainly it is without shadow of defense when the effort is to encourage war, which is murder, sorrow, poverty, disease, death.
Pacifists held fondly to their dream when there was no chance that it could be realized. The war that was upon the world, had to be fought when once the program of violence had been opened. The soldiers who fought it, who were in the midst of its terrors, who saw the blind and insensate rage that turned men into beasts, would curse bitterly the statesmanship that presumed to precipitate another conflict.

The temper of the ex-soldier is that of the people whose homes were bereft when he marched away, and where now, it may be, a bow of crepe is the setting of a gold star.

If the American delegates to the conference do not listen to the pleading of the women, to the voice of the nation as heard from the pulpit, to the conviction of the nation as formulated in the press, and go to the utmost limit in favoring disarmament, and thus favoring world peace, they will fall far short in performance of the sacred duty that awaits them.

CABINET CHANGES

President Harding rejects a tentative plan for abolition of the department of labor. He believes its activities are of importance. Probably the people of the country will agree with him. The proposition to combine this department with others, under the head of public welfare, would be likely to result in neglect of all of the groups. As education and health would be two of the group, the peril of explosion either to the incompetency of subordinates is plain enough.
Another proposed change would combine the army and navy departments. There was a time when one man, with the title of secretary of the army and navy, controlled both. Both arms of defense were then small affairs.

A position in the cabinet is a dignified station. It readily attracts men of fine capacity. Such men are required if administration is to be successful. The President who uses the appointments to pay political debts, or for fear of losing some of the spotlight radiance, gathers small men around his council table, invariably makes a costly mistake.

If economy is the inspiration of the proposed changes, the thought is ventured that the country is quite willing to pay for a good cabinet. Perhaps it would be satisfied to save through not enlarging congress. An additional portfolio, devoted to educational interests, would be far more welcome than the abolition of any of the posts to the services of which the country is accustomed.

WOMEN TO HAVE A PART

It will be a matter of general satisfaction that women are to have a part in the disarmament conference. Even though their duties be advisory, it is natural to assume that they will be effective.
California is proud that so well known a citizen as Katherine Phillips Edison has been accorded the honor of a place. Mrs. Edison is an able woman. She has accomplished much for this state. When the suffrage campaign was in progress here she was a leader. By the time the cause had triumphed she had so shown her aptitude for public work that ever since she has been called upon for service. She has done much in her connection with the welfare bureau to better the wages, and working conditions of women.

There is no fear that the women appointed represent the extreme pacifists who demand that regardless of the action of any other nation, the United States must disarm, taking a position of utter defenselessness with the temper of the world at the present pitch. Such an influence if heeded at all could only hamper the progress of the conference, because wholly out of consonance with its purposes. Even the most sanguine know that the day of complete disarmament is indefinitely in the future. The belief that a nation while unable to protect itself, could do much for the cause of peace is not widely held. Probably it is not held by any of the number that have been chosen.

AVERAGE INTELLIGENCE

In an article concerning moving picture production, Burton Rascoe in The Bookman adverts to the estimate of the National Research council concerning the intelligence of Americans. The finding of this collection of presumable highbrows was that the intelligence of the average male adult in the United States is that of a normal 14-year-old child.

His purpose in this is to show that moving pictures are made for this juvenile average. He scores the pictures without mercy, and it may be said fairly, without reason. In fact, his elaborately written article indicates hasty temper and well as hasty judgment. Mr. Rascoe has succeeded in disposing of his irascibility at space rates.

One of his declarations is that no high order of talent has been drawn to the pictures themselves, or to the creation of scenarios. This obviously is an error so gross, that one engaged in defending the movies, would be likely to ascribe it to stupidity or even to malice. A number of the leading stars of the film world had won enviable stage reputes before engaging with the screen. Men and women of established literary fame not only have written for the movies, but have superintended the actual productions.

But if the average intelligence is that of a fourteen-year-old child, why should not the picture, or the play or the book be adapted to the type of intelligence with which it is to come in contact? If the average of idiocy is so high, and the man or woman one meets in the street (apparently sensible and useful individuals), are in fact, morons, that is not their fault. Rascoe is picking flaws in creation. The unfortunate human family is entitled to amusement, if for nothing else than to make amends for having been denied brains.

Moving pictures are very far from perfect. So are the magazines exposed on the stands, and most of the books there not only imperfect but pernicious. This is not a perfect world. Even the article from the pen of Rascoe is crammed with error, and radiates ignorance; not general ignorance, but that pertaining to his subject.

THE EXCHANGE MUDDLE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The curious thing about the chaotic condition that now rules in the rates of exchange of the moneys of the different nations is that nobody seems to comprehend exactly what makes it, nor precisely what will remedy it.

There is no doubt but what the distress all over the world among laborers, the stoppage of production and the other elements of our present economical conditions, are due to the violent disorder in exchange rates.

Nobody wants to make a contract to sell anything for a thousand dollars in six months if at the end of that time his thousand only mean six hundred.

Of course there are many cocksure economists who very shrilly insist that they know just what is the trouble. But hardly two of them agree, and hardly one of them is convinced.

Whatever may be the immediate cause, whether it be the destruction caused by the war, or the vast debts of the various countries, or the uncertainty of the times, there is little doubt that the root cause of the whole thing is that the money, which is the blood of commerce, is controlled by some forty or fifty nations instead of some one central authority.

Commerce is International. Patriotism and all other national sentiments and devotions may be very estimable in their way. But they do nothing to business except to play hob.

Perhaps, after all, it may be from the pocket-book of the world that will come the pangs that shall compel mankind to that redemptive unity which alone can insure the progress of the race.

The dollar is controlled by a group of gentlemen at Washington, the mark by another group at Berlin, the franc by another group at Paris, and so on. This would work all right if each country were alone, "each on its separate star." But when they live on the same planet and have to do business with each other, the result is only confusion.

One perfectly absurd result of all is that in Germany, where the currency is most depreciated, business is flourishing and factories are busy with foreign orders. While in Great Britain and in the United States unemployment is at its worst and business is suffering from paralysis.

This would seem to argue that the way to get prosperity is to speed up the printing presses and make more paper money. It furnishes an excellent basis for the claims of the greenbackers and inflationists of all kinds. So long as nations are complete and independent entirely of each other, the one that has the most depreciated money has the advantage over the one whose money is sound.

Of course, any one who sees a few riches beyond his nose understands that inflation is only a temporary matter. By and by a country, as an individual, has to pay up. Also with inflation, prices have a way of galloping ahead of wages, and it does no good to have your salary increased to $1000 a minute when the price of ham and eggs has been multiplied ten thousand times.

There are two ways out of the difficulty. One, which is actually insisted upon by many politicians, is that each country labor for itself alone, isolate itself, raise high the tariff barriers, and work out its own salvation.

The only trouble with this is that it is impossible. It is an effort to turn back the clock of time, to revert to a condition of provincialism and isolation which the world has abandoned.
The other remedy is to go forward, and to form some sort of international arrangement by which the money of the world may be based upon a standard recognized universally and controlled by an authoritative body acknowledged by all.

THE LISTENING POST

There are three elements to the population of the world:
You and I and the Other Fellow.
That is plain enough, to be sure.
For who is not included as You or I is surely the Other Fellow.
So that makes the list complete.

In the community there are three individuals:
The same You and I and the Other Fellow.
And there is the same division in the lodge and the church and the Chamber of Commerce and whatever body of men may get together.
And of women, too.

Although "Fellow" is usually accepted as a masculine term.
But it is not necessarily masculine.
For a woman may be Fellow of a learned society, we take it.
So Fellow means, more exactly speaking, "associate."

And You and I and the Other Fellow are the associates in the work of this world.
And in the humanity and helpfulness and charity and need and helpful endeavor and things like that.

The work of the world is done by You and Me and the Other Fellow.

We have to change the second pronoun there for the sake of the grammar.

But the meaning is the same.
And the good that is done in the world is done by You and Me and the Other Fellow.

The wars that are fought in the world are fought by You and Me and the Other Fellow.
And all things in the world have to do with You and Me and the Other Fellow.
For we are the world.
You and I and the Other Fellow.

So, when we have accepted that division of the people of the world, we come to the interesting conclusion that You and I are two-thirds of the combination.

For two are two-thirds of three.
That is a mathematical truth.

Thus, if You and I are two-thirds of the association, we ought to do two-thirds of the work. Two-thirds of the good.
We should supply two-thirds of the kindness. Two out of every three smiles should be ours. For we ought to hold up our ends.

We don't want to ask the Other Fellow to do more than his share.
And we ought to do a little more than ours. To supply any possible deficiency.

But what ARE we doing?
Are we doing our share?
Do we realize that You and I are two-thirds of the three elements in the world?
Or are we letting the Other Fellow do more than his share?

We speak of the duty of the government, for instance?
But of what is the government composed?
Of You and Me and the Other Fellow, to be sure.

So, two-thirds of the things we claim the government should do are our responsibilities.

And we want Somebody to do something about so-and-so.

But who is Somebody?
You and I and the Other Fellow again.
And if we do not do what we think Somebody should do, or our share of it, then two-thirds of it will remain undone.

So it all simmers down at last to You and Me and the Other Fellow.

And we are two-thirds of that association.
And, realizing that, we ought to get together, You and I, and do our share of the work to do. Leaving the Other Fellow to do his, if he will. But not failing in our duty and responsibility, because we think the Other Fellow ought to do this or that.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

My Daughter Louise—By Homer Greene (1853)

In the light of the moon, by the side of the water,
My seat on the sand and her seat on my knees,
We watch the glad billows, do I and my daughter,
My sweet little daughter Louise.
We wonder what city the pathway to glory,
That broadens away to the limitless west,
Leads up to—she minds her of some pretty story
And says "To the city that mortals love best."
Then I say "It must lead to the faraway city,
The beautiful City of Rest."

In the light of the moon, by the side of the water,
Two stand in the shadow of whispering trees,
And one loves my daughter, my beautiful daughter,
My womanly daughter Louise.
She steps to the boat with a touch of his fingers,

And out on the diamonded pathway they move;
The shallop is lost in the distance, it lingers.
It waits, but I know that its coming will prove
That it went to the walls of the wonderful city,
The magical City of Love.

In the light of the moon, by the side of the water,
I wait for her coming from over the seas;
I wait but to welcome the dust of my daughter,
To weep for my daughter Louise.
The path, as of old, reaching out in its splendor,
Gleams bright, like a way that an angel has trod;
I kiss the cold burden of the billows surrender,
Sweet clay to lie under the pitiful sod;
But she rests, at the end of the path, in the city Whose "builder and maker is God."

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

The bump an express train gave Postmaster General Hay was a mere nothing compared with the bumps he gets from mail robbers right along.

A man in court pleaded that he was so nervous he couldn't tell the truth. Good plan for him to keep his mouth shut.

In the heat of a bargain rush a Los Angeles woman lost a $1000 fur. A sympathizing world may only hope that she got the bargain she was after.

Nebraska's new political party doubtless will lack the whiskers necessary to make it like the populist party of years ago.

Two Chinese youths have been fined $150 for winking at a white girl. Beating against the racial barrier is expensive.

Refusal to enlarge the Los Angeles police force to effective size indicates that the bandits have a political pull.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

THE KING OF BEASTS

[Starry Cross]

Four hundred and forty thousand hunters' licenses were issued in Pennsylvania this year before the opening day of the 1921 season. Four hundred and forty thousand licenses to take life, to inflict wounds, to bring fear, pain, agony to fellow creatures struggling like ourselves through this mystery of life.

Every tenth man in the state paid ten dollars for the privilege of being cruel, for the opportunity to degrade his humanity and turn back the hands of evolution.

Is it any wonder that the world is filled with wars and rumors of wars? Is it any wonder that brotherhood is but a mocking dream and peace and good-will no more than phrases?

Along the river bank where we reside the sunrise of these September mornings is ushered in by an unceasing pop, pop, crack, crack of firearms, and the hours which should be those of bird rejoicing in the birth of a new day are turned into hours of fluttering terror and the struggles of death. Blackbird, heron, rail, reed, kingfisher, swallow, robin, sparrow, all is grist for the hunters' mill, all must grace his haversack or die where they have fallen that he may prove his skill and show himself the "roof and crown of things."

O little soul wielding thy strength against those weaker than thyself, is this thy manliness, is this the proof of that divinity thou darest boast? Up, show thy power upon other game! Shoot down that sullen look, that unkind word, aim at that cowardice, that act of fear, those compromises; kill that evil thought, subdue that arrogance!

O soul, if thou wouldst prove thy right to rule conquer thyself and thus become a king!

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

The driver of a mail truck fell into the hands of thieves, as did the valuable mail he was transporting. It was his second experience of the sort. He seems to have submitted to both occasions with a calmness well calculated to keep the tempers of the robbers at a non-homicidal pitch. The value of a whole skin is considerable.

According to the driver, he was stopped by the deliberate projection of an automobile across his bows. He had no weapon with him. He probably had a keen recollection of the former affair. In the circumstances he would have done well to plunge full tilt into the purposely trespassing machine.

Postmaster General Hays has indicated a strong desire to defeat the criminals habitually looting the mails. He has provided arms for his employees, and earnestly solicited them to shoot. To stimulate marksmanship, he has offered $5000 for the taking of any mail robber, dead or alive. The natural preference would be for a robber in the latter harmless condition.

Robberies continue on a large scale. Apparently the passing yegg has only to intimate that he desires registered mail, and the custodian hands it over, lock, stock and barrel.

The respectable stranger asking for mail to which he is entitled sometimes has difficulty in identifying himself. He could obviate this difficulty by waiting until the sun had gone down. Then he could get that, and a lot more, and the troublesome question of identity not arise at all.

It is seldom one is able to read a daily paper without observing that somebody has been sued for breach of promise, or for alienation of affections. A figure much favored by the desolated souls is $100,000.

There is a possibility of course that such an action has merit. Ordinarily it is totally lacking in this valuable quality, and to be classed morally with the get-rich-quick scheme of the bunko man.

Father Ricard of San Jose has a habit of telling what weather is due for weeks ahead. The weather occasionally conforms to the Ricard schedule with surprisingly faithful attention to detail. This year Father Ricard said the first few days of November for this region would be dry and hot. They were. They would have been totally arid save for copious perspiration.

Death of Dan R. Hanna recalls the time when Davenport was making his reputation as a cartoonist by portraying Mark Hanna, father of Dan. Invariably he arrayed the old political manager in a loud suit of check pattern. Each of the checks was adorned with a dollar sign.

The son, who in time inherited the money, doubtless had a good time with it, according to some standards. It equipped him well for the payment of multiple alimony, as he was married four times.

A scientist is quoted as saying that in a few years idiots will be of the past.

This is cheerful, considering the general tendency of scientists to hold that the race is degenerating mentally. For example they have a way of asserting that the average intelligence of adults is that of a normal boy of fourteen. Of course this is not acceptable. If the average intelligence is so low, it is the smart boy of fourteen used as the unit of measurement, who must be abnormal.

It is a little contradictory to declare that the normal status of the race is the status they fail to attain.

Los Angeles points, but not with pride, to the record of twenty-eight stolen automobiles for a single day.

With such wholesale larceny as this possible, owners cannot claim to be free from blame. That they are careless in safeguarding their property there is not the slightest doubt.

The police can't prevent the thefts, the courts decline to punish the thieves adequately. Joyriding in a purloined machine continues to be regarded as a joke.

If the owner of an auto desires to keep it, he will appoint himself keeper.

Arraigned on a charge of bootlegging, a man at Des Moines said, "I would rather take a chance at bootlegging than work for $16 a week."

Sixteen dollars a week is not much, but a man is not tied for life to a job carrying such remuneration. It may afford him an opportunity for great things.

Bootlegging leads to the penitentiary where opportunity languishes. It is in itself a criminal and disgraceful business. The man who prefers it to honest labor has little sense and is a poor citizen.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY SATURDAY

A number of little folk enjoyed a pleasant afternoon Saturday, when Masters Norman and Lester Girard entertained at their home, 219 South Kenwood, in celebration of their birthdays. Games were played for which prizes were awarded. Charles Klein won first prize in the donkey game and Howard Heck the consolation in that, as well as in the peanut race, which was won by Gladys Jones. Following the games dainty refreshments were served.

Boys and girls present were Shirley Otter, Gladys Jones, Laura Moyse, Jack and Philip Stine, Howard and Paul Heck, Solomon and Charles Klein, Frank and Richard Arnold, Ray Miller, Bobby Allen, Donald and Helen Hinkle, of Hollywood; Lorraine and Homer Girard. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stine and the hosts, Norman and Leslie Girard.

MUSIC CLUB TO ENLIST FOR PARADE

The call has gone out to members of the Glendale Music Club to enlist for the parade to be put on by the American Legion Friday. All members having automobiles which they are willing to decorate and enter are requested to communicate with Mrs. Frank Arnold of East Lomita, not later than Wednesday morning at 9 a. m., telephoning her at Glendale 1391-W.

The club is also planning to enter a float and all persons having yellow chrysanthemums and date palms which they are willing to contribute are requested to convey them to 208 South Brand not later than 3 p. m. Thursday, as they are needed for decoration purposes. The club will furnish the banners to be carried in the machines of individual entrants.

DR. BEACH WILL TALK TO PARENTS

The Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations will hold its regular monthly meeting at Intermediate School Wednesday.

The business session will open at 2:15 and at 2:45 Dr. Beach will give a talk on Orthopaedics. This will be followed by an address by Mrs. Abbott, district chairman of child hygiene.

As the program will be of interest to all mothers, it will be an open meeting which all P. T. A. members are invited to attend.

ALLENS VISITING RELATIVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Allen and children, Willard, Helen and Vera, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Hogue at their home, 329 North Jackson. They are here from Tucson, Ariz., and will return in the course of a week or ten days.

Mrs. Allen, it will be remembered, is the sister of Mrs. Hogue, living in Santa Ana, who was so dangerously ill at the time of the influenza epidemic. Her life was barely saved and she was left in such a weakened condition that physicians recommended a change of climate to the dryer air of Arizona. The advice has proved good and Mrs. Allen has greatly improved in health. The Hagues have been taking them on auto trips to Santa Ana and the beaches and the Allens say California looks very beautiful to them.

SELECT ARCHITECT DRAW CLUB PLANS

Members of the executive committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met Tuesday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, on North Orange street, where a considerable amount of routine business was transacted. A cafeteria luncheon was served at noon and in the afternoon the board was joined by the past presidents and organized as the building committee. There was a full attendance and great enthusiasm manifested, which promises a club house in the near future.

The selection of an architect has been under consideration for some time and a vote was taken on the candidates which resulted in favor of Alfred F. Priest of this city, who will accordingly receive the commission.

Mr. Priest was the architect of the Glendale theater, of the Elks' Club, and of several other artistic buildings in Glendale, and the fact that he is to design the club house is regarded as an assurance that it will be a thing of beauty and a credit to the club and the city.

The building committee consists of Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, Mrs. A. M. Williams, Mrs. Mabel Ocker, Mrs. Oliver O. Clark, Mrs. Mabel O. Rudy, Mrs. A. M. Hunt, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. John Robert White, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, Mrs. Andrew Findlay, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. J. H. Braly, Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett.

EVELYN NESBIT TRIES SUICIDE BY POISON

Evelyn Nesbit

Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, attempted suicide in her apartment over her tea room in New York by taking a large dose of morphine, according to physicians. Attending physicians announced her condition as serious. Miss Nesbit, but a short time before her attempt on her own life, was served with a dispossession notice for non-payment of rent, and had been driven into a despondent frenzy, over her inability to make both ends meet.

FRENCH BLUEBEARD SEEMS AT HOME IN COURT INQUIRY

Answers Questions Readily, Takes Advantage of Every Point in Favor

VERSAILLES, Nov. 9.—The first witnesses in the murder trial of Henri Landru, the "Bluebeard of Gambais" were called this afternoon. After Judge Gilbert had completed his grilling of the prisoner, including a review of Landru's life previous to 1915, embracing convictions of forgery and frauds, the taking of testimony was begun on the charge of nuptial murder. Most of the session was given to rehearsal of scenes from "Midsummer Night's dream" and "Richard III" which are to be put on by the section before the club the third week in January. About 20 were present.

Mrs. Cable served punch during the afternoon and cake and ice cream at the close of the rehearsal. An extra rehearsal took place this morning at the Masonic Temple which was directed by Mrs. H. W. Ralston. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is the curator of the section.

RECEPTION FOR NEW CHURCH MEMBERS

A program in charge of Mrs. Charles A. Parker will be given and a general social evening enjoyed.

MONROVIA TEAM TO COME HERE FRIDAY

Hard Battle Will be Put Up on Moyse Field Afternoon Armistice Day

By GEORGE C. JORDAN.

Two of the strongest football teams in the Central league will meet on Moyse Field, Armistice Day. Glendale and Monrovia will stage one of the classiest pigskin duels of the season.

The game will start at 2:30 p. m. Ed Shaw the colored lad who plays left half on the Monrovia team, has caused a sensation in the Central league with his reputation as an athlete. He recently annexed the title of state champion by winning the 440 yard run at the state interscholastic track meet. On the gridiron he runs a little track meet all his own and has been responsible for most of the scores made by that team this year. Monrovia is leading the Central league in the race for the 1921 pennant with 1000 per cent record, having won every game this season. Glendale will probably combat Monrovia's end runs and line bucks with an aerial attack featuring Stoff's long punts and Terzo's passes.

Chet Green, Glendale quarterback, who broke a rib in the South Pasadena game, has recovered sufficiently to start the game Friday. Terzo, who has been calling signals will be shifted to half. Friday's game will end the league football season for Glendale as her defeat by Franklin High school last Friday eliminated the team from the pennant race.

World's Greatest Event Keep In Close Touch!

THE conference in Washington which opens November 12th, where master-minds of the great nations will attempt to bring about limitation of armaments to relieve the tax-payers of the nations from tremendous burdens, and to lessen likelihood of wars, will mark the greatest event in the history of the world since the birth of Christ. Nothing for the good of mankind has ever occurred on this earth to compare with the hopes and aims of the great men who are now assembling in Washington, except the coming of Christ.

The Glendale Daily Press will carry extended stories of the actions of the great men in Washington, and every citizen of Glendale should read of the progress made to protect future generations and relieve the present generation from almost unbearable taxation as a result of wars and the construction of armaments.

If you are not a subscriber to the Glendale Daily Press, call Glendale 97 and order it delivered to your home or office every week-day afternoon. With it will be the Los Angeles Evening Express,—both to you for only 65 cents per month, and besides you get a $1000 accident policy absolutely without cost.

Many of the world's greatest authorities will cover the arms conference for the Associated Press, in the Los Angeles Express, and the United Press, in the Glendale Daily Press, both carrying the full leased wire service of the nation's two superior press services.

who's your printer?

—a question you have probably never given much thought. Most buyers of printing think that as long as type gets on paper it will answer their needs.

This is not a fact. A printer must interpret the purpose the advertiser has in mind and must select type to suit each particular job.

Our Job Printing Department is under the management of capable craftsmen, who understand the correct uses of type and can "put over big" any class of printing which you may have.

Our creative department is at your service, free of charge, ready to furnish suggestions on all classes of printing.

Angle Worm Is Not Guilty of Carrying Cancer Germ

Disease has been traced to microscopic worm that inhabits earth, according to Dr. H. R. Gaylord, of New York State Institute at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Nov. 8.—Reports from New York that a German scientist in the University of Berlin has traced the definite origin of cancer to the angle worm was branded as "terribly garbled" when an International News Service representative asked Dr. H. R. Gaylord of the State Institute for the Study of Malignant Diseases, about it.

A dozen years ago scientists in the Gravitik laboratories in High Street, which is the state institute for experimental work in cancer study, started work on the worm theory and soon exploded the angle worm idea as a carrier of the cancer malignant disease, Dr. Gaylord said.

Dr. Frank Kopsch, of Berlin University, was given as authority in New York reports for statements about the common-fishing worm being the distributor of exact symptoms of tumor and cancer.

When Dr. Gaylord was asked to read the report he commented: "Terribly garbled, because I know that Dr. Kopsch does not believe the angle worm has anything to do with it." Then Dr. Gaylord took from the library of the State Institute a volume published by Dr. Kopsch in 1919 in which the Berlin physician's experiments with frogs and cancer were described. The book told of a microscopic form of animal life similar in shape but thousands of times smaller than the naked eye.

"I returned from Europe in August and I heard nothing there of any recent discoveries by Dr. Kopsch. I would have heard of it if any had been made," continued Dr. Gaylord. "I know all about his experiments with worms and frogs because they were told in this book of his work published some time after the war."

The book was signed by "Prof. Dr. Fr. Kopsch, Leipzig, 1919," and was printed in German, but, as Dr. Gaylord said, did not refer to angle worms. It had pictures of growths developed in frogs from injecting, through food, the microscopic worm described by Dr. Gaylord.

Found Cancer Worm in 1910

"The type of animal cancer worm dates back to studies made here in the state institute about 1910, when we first discovered a microscopic worm which inhabits the earth and which we first thought to be harmless but later determined does carry a germ bordering on cancerous growths," Dr. Gaylord explained.

"Dr. Kopsch has forged one more link in the study of that type of cancer and has established that the microscopic worm positively acts as a carrier of cancer. We worked it out here back in 1919. It was about 1912 that we showed a connection through that class of worm and cancer of the thyroid, in trout."

"We are studying that subject now in Springfield, where we are breeding mice with the microscopic worm which we first thought was harmless but since have learned it is not as harmless as we believed."

When Dr. Gaylord was asked if he remembered a Buffalo physician who advanced an angle worm theory a dozen years ago as the cause of cancer, he replied that such a report had been made by a doctor who has since died, but that the theory was blazed through experiments at the time the microscopic worm was discovered in the Gravitik laboratory.

The New York report of Dr. Kopsch's experiments told of taking fifty frogs and feeding house flies, lettuce lice and angle worms to them, until they showed exact symptoms of tumor and then, through a process of elimination of foods, discovered that angle worms developed the cancer.

That report amused Dr. Gaylord for he said Dr. Kopsch's experiments had corroborated the work in the Gravitik laboratory of a dozen years ago, when the microscopic worm, but not the angle worm, had been worked with.

NOTICE OF ANNEXATION ELECTION

ORDINANCE NO. 497

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE PROVIDING FOR THE HOLDING OF A SPECIAL ELECTION ON THE 29TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1921, FOR VOTING ON THE ANNEXATION TO THE CITY OF GLENDALE OF CERTAIN TERRITORY DESIGNATED AS LAUREL AVENUE DISTRICT AND GIVING NOTICE OF SUCH ELECTION AS PROVIDED BY LAW.

WHEREAS, on September 12, 1921, five (5) electors filed a notice with the City Council of the City of Glendale, asking that certain territory included in the petition be annexed to the City of Glendale, said five electors being electors of said territory in which it is proposed to circulate said petition; and

WHEREAS, upon receipt of such notice of intention to file a petition, the City Council adopted a resolution acknowledging the receipt thereof and approving the intention of said petitioners to circulate said petition; and

WHEREAS, said City Council, within thirty (30) days after the adoption of said resolution, received from said five electors a written petition signed by them, asking that said territory be annexed to said City of Glendale, be annexed to said City of Glendale, and is more particularly described in said notice of intention and in said petition in words and figures as hereinafter in this ordinance described; and

WHEREAS, said City Council of the City of Glendale hereby finds and determines that said petition is signed by not less than one-fourth in number of the qualified electors residing in the aforesaid territory as shown by the registration of votes of said Los Angeles County; and

WHEREAS, the said petition is proposed to be annexed to said City of Glendale does not form a part of any municipal corporation and it appears that said new territory is inhabited and that the occupants thereof are bona fide residents of said territory; and

WHEREAS, said petition contains a request that the City Council call a special election in said new territory, proposed by said petitioners, and submit to the electors residing in said new territory the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said City of Glendale;

THEREFORE, be it ordained by the Council of the City of Glendale:

SECTION 1. That notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of cities and counties," and for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the districting, government and municipal control of such annexed territory, approved June 18th, 1913, and designated and referred to as the "Annexation Act of 1913," and acts amendatory thereto, a special election will be held and a special election is hereby called to be held, in that certain territory hereinafter described, on the 29th day of November, 1921, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors residing in said territory the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said City of Glendale, and the propositions to be so submitted, said special election shall be the following:

That it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of said City of Glendale, said territory hereinafter described.

That said territory is hereby designated and shall be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at said special election as "Laurel Avenue District."

That upon the ballots to be used at said special election in addition to the other matter required by law, there shall be printed the words:

"Shall Laurel Avenue District be annexed to the City of Glendale?—Yes" and "No."

"Shall Laurel Avenue District be annexed to the City of Glendale?—No" and there shall be a voting square to the right of and opposite each such proposition.

That the qualified electors residing in the territory so proposed to be annexed to the City of Glendale are hereby directed to vote upon the question of the annexation of said territory to said City by stamping a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes" or by stamping a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "No." If an elector shall stamp a cross in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the annexation of said territory to the City of Glendale; and if an elector shall stamp a cross in the voting square after the printed word "No," the vote of such elector shall be counted against such annexation.

That for the purpose of holding and conducting said special election one voting precinct, denominated as Laurel Avenue District Election Precinct, is hereby established and designated, the boundaries of which precinct shall be coextensive with the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed to the City of Glendale, and in that certain territory proposed to be annexed to the City of Glendale is established and designated as follows, and the following named election officers therefor are appointed, to-wit:

LAUREL AVENUE DISTRICT ELECTION PRECINCT

Comprising all the territory hereinafter set forth and proposed to be annexed to the City of Glendale designated by this ordinance as "Laurel Avenue District."

polling place: Residence of Chas. Fairburn, next house west of Highway Lumber Co.'s office on San Fernando road.

Inspector: Henry M. Griffin.
Judges (2): Mrs. Bertha P. Nesselroad and Mrs. Ursula E. Frithurn.

The polls of said election will be open at six o'clock a. m. of the day of said election, to-wit: the 29th day of November, 1921, and must be kept open until seven o'clock p. m. of the same day, when the polls shall be closed, except as provided in section 1164 of the Political Code of the State of California.

The ballots to be used at such special election, the opening and closing of the polls and the holding and conducting of special election shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the laws of the State of California, concerning general elections, except as otherwise provided herein and in that certain Act of the Legislature of the State of California, heretofore mentioned.

SECTION 2. That the territory proposed to be annexed to said City of Glendale, and in which said special election shall be held, and which is designated as "Laurel Avenue District," is situated in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and is particularly described as follows: All that territory within the following described boundary lines, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the southerly line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad with the easterly city boundary line of the City of Burbank; thence northerly and northwesterly along various courses of the city boundary line of the City of Burbank to the intersection with the northwesterly line of Lot 2, Block 100, Rancho Providencia and Scott Tract as per map recorded in Book 47, Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County; thence northerly along the northwesterly line of said Lot 2, and Lot 7 of Block 100 of said Rancho Providencia and Scott Tract and its northeasterly prolongation to the northeast corner of the right of way of the Pacific Electric Railway Company; thence northwesterly along the said northwesterly line of said Lot 2, Block 100, Rancho Providencia and Scott Tract to the intersection with the center line of Mountain Street; thence southerly along the center line of Mountain Street to the intersection with the center line of the City of Burbank; thence southerly along the center line of Mountain Street to the boundary line of the City of Glendale; thence southerly, southeasterly and southwesterly following the various courses of the boundary line of the City of Glendale to its intersection with the southerly boundary line of the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad;

thence westerly along said southerly right of way line to the point of beginning.

SECTION 3. The City Clerk is hereby directed to give notice of such election by the publishing of this ordinance and notice in the Los Angeles Daily Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed and published outside of the City of Glendale, but in the County of Los Angeles, and such notice shall be published once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election; and said City Clerk is also hereby directed to give notice of election by publication of this ordinance and notice in the Glendale Daily Press, the official newspaper of said city, a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the City of Glendale, once a week for two weeks before the time appointed for the holding of said election.

SECTION 4. The City Clerk shall certify the passage of this ordinance by the Council of the City of Glendale. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force upon its passage.

Passed by the Council of the City of Glendale on this 27th day of October, 1921.

SPENCER ROBINSON, Mayor of the City of Glendale.

GOOD ENGLISH WEEK BEING OBSERVED LOCAL SCHOOLS

Clever Posters in Schools Tell Activity of Students in Various Branches

Good English week is being celebrated all over the United States, and Glendale high school is keeping in the van of the procession. Anyone who visits the school and sees the clever posters made by the art department to call attention to the observance, will be convinced of this, even if he hears nothing of other activities in that connection. The celebration really began about two weeks ago with the public speaking classes and has spread throughout the entire school. It has been the subject of special addresses and of debates, and every student has had the matter forcibly brought to mind in the classes.

Some of the students in the classes of Miss Mona C. Gardner, head of the department of dramatic art, have gone far afield and secured interviews with prominent business men and others on the subject. A few of these interviews have kindly been placed at the disposal of the Press. Dr. C. Stuart Steelman, for example, says: "The value of correct English in everyday life is the foundation upon which we may build our social and business success and should be demanded by the older as well as our younger citizens."

D. H. Smith, manager of the Brand boulevard branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, says: "Good English in the business world is of inestimable value. A letter concisely and correctly written is a valuable asset to any business man."

John Robert White, state assemblyman, says: "The failure of a salesman in a high-class store to use good English often causes the customer to lose confidence in him, and therefore he is of less value to his employer."

Arthur Oliver, head of the mechanical arts department of the high school, says: "One has not made a word of his own until he can use it correctly and without thought or hesitation."

TUJUNGA DIVIDES ON INCORPORATION

Better Phone Service Discussed by Business Men, Want All Night Service

TUJUNGA, Nov. 9.—The city is divided on the matter of incorporation with the residents of the west side in favor of the move and the east side people as strong in opposition. An organization will be formed to advocate the move and work for it. The reason for the divided sentiment appears to be an alleged attempt to incorporate the west side of the valley as a city of the sixth class and leave the east side of town to its own devices.

The Business Men's Association met at Inley's restaurant and discussed the question of securing better telephone service for the city. A determined attempt will be made to secure an all-night service at the exchange in spite of the fact that the last attempt to secure this service failed.

At the meeting of the Acacia Club, held in Bolton Hall Monday night, the matter of paying for several lots that have been purchased by the club was taken up and sufficient funds to pay for them were subscribed. Plans for a suitable building to be erected on these lots were also discussed.

The Ladies' Aid of the Community church will entertain on Wednesday night with a supper at the church. The Goode & Bobo Real Estate Co. has moved to its new location at the foot of Sunset boulevard on the state highway.

Mrs. J. E. Carr has returned from a visit in Los Angeles. The Monte Vista Valley Bank is scheduled to open today.

Mrs. Daisy Clendenny, who has lived in Tujunga for several years past, has moved to Long Beach.

Mrs. Rossi Gish Buck, talented violinist, will soon move to Los Angeles.

MUSICAL THIEF IS BUSY IN GLENDALE

Music hath charms. Canned music especially proved so charming that someone entered the home of Mrs. Lasker, 741 South Glendale, Monday night and took a Grafonola and 100 records. Mrs. Lasker reported to the police that she was away from home Monday night and when she returned about 11 o'clock, found someone had cut the screen door at the rear and entered. The Grafonola and records were the only articles stolen.

RED PEPPER FOR COLDS IN CHEST

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once. The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. Rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known.—Adv.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

WHEN THE OLD STEAM ORGAN PLAYED
Far down the street a while ago I heard familiar sounds,
That spurred my memory to go by many leaps and bounds
To one day when I was a boy and followed the parade,
And when at the tail end of it the old steam organ played.
Up from the pipes the vapor rose and then came piping tones
As I heard Annie Laurie played with many toots and groans.
I was not critical and so the piping outcries made Me music that was sweet that day the old steam organ played.

Its notes were all in sharps and flats, none natural or true,
But that made little difference to us, to me and you.
No symphony of later days that orchestras have played
Could equal that shrill music at the end of the parade.
Such old and long-forgotten tunes, and sometimes just about
The middle of the playing was a note or two left out,
But we supplied it as we heard, and the omissions made
No difference to us the day the old steam organ played.

We did not see the organ first, for down the little street
Came elephants ponderous and gray, and fell the tramp of feet
Where horses danced and pranced for us, and cages wheeled and rolled,
Where lions would roar fearfully and chattering monkeys scold.
And then such bands way up in air on wagons gaudy red,
With noises to wake Ptolemy and get him out of bed,
And then at last far down the street the end of the parade
We saw and heard the tooting as the old steam organ played.

It played us "Annie Laurie," "Silver Threads Among the Gold,"
It tooted "In the Gloaming," with a pathos uncontrolled;
Sometimes it thrilled us "Dixie," for its repertoire was long,
And we had much variety if tuning had gone wrong.
And I thought I was barefoot, with a quarter in my jeans,
To spend out at the circus with its riot of rare scenes,
With not a care in all the world, if I was rent and frayed
And patched and dirty-faced that day the old steam organ played.

MAIL ROBBERS GET BIG LOOT ILLINOIS

of his coach to see what was going on. A shot rang out and Moon fell, shot in the back. One of the bandits climbed to the top of the mail car and dropped two odor bombs. Another placed a stick of dynamite under the front truck of the mail car. An explosion resulted.

After forcing the doors of the mail car, the bandits swarmed into the coach. The safe was blown open while the mail clerks were covered with revolvers and almost overcome by the fumes from the odor bombs. The bandits rifled the contents of the safe. At this point H. H. Knowlton, a student from Champaign, Ill., joined the battle and fired at the bandits. Four bullets passed through his coat, grazing the skin. The bandits, with the loot of the mail car strewn on their backs, escaped in an automobile. The robbery, the most daring in years, took more than an hour.

After the bandits had blown the safe they fired the mail car and sort of out the registered mail pouches, showing an accurate knowledge of the valuable pouches, and roared away in two high-powered automobiles, which had been hiding behind a clump of bushes. All lights were out on the machines, but the bandits had no difficulty in picking up the main road north, as their autos roared away at nearly 60 miles an hour.

"I wouldn't have given a nickel for my life during that 45-minute revolver battle," said Engineer Fogarty. They took me back to talk with the mail clerks and tried to induce them to open the car doors without a fight. When the clerks wouldn't open the doors and a charge of dynamite was exploded under the car, blasting off the door, firing started from the clerks in the other mail cars. The robbers returned the fire and we were right in the path of the bullets.

"As they started whizzing by us, Bangs looked at me and whispered, 'We got to get out of here.' We made a break for the engine. The bandits turned their fire on us. Bangs fell wounded, but I got around the engine and crawled beneath the pilot. Bangs crawled in beside me. We were sheltered from the bullets, but I shivered and my whole body broke out in a cold sweat."

Immediately after the robbers left, Fogarty pulled the burning mail car to Champaign, where the fire was extinguished. All of the injured are expected to recover.

TWIN FALLS, Ida., Nov. 8.—Entering the dining car of Union Pacific train No. 17, eastbound, Portland to Chicago, a few miles out of American Falls, late last night, a lone bandit held up the diners and relieved them of cash and jewelry. The bandit made no attempt on the forward coaches, but contented himself with repeating the sticking-up in the observation car. He wore no mask, it was said.

Disappointed with his haul, the bandit expressed disgust with "the bums who travel first-class these days," before he dropped off the train and became one of the desert's shadows.

Chicken Dinner—Great plans are being made for the chicken dinner and card party, which is to be given November 16 by the members of the Women's Civics Club as a benefit for the program fund. It will be one of the most important functions that has taken place in that section of the city this winter. It will be held in the K. of P. hall on Brand and Park avenue. A moderate price of 50 cents will be charged.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Baggs of Los Angeles are temporarily located at 219 West Windsor road.

Purely Personal

Mrs. Irvin Bullock and Miss Isabel Yates attended a very interesting meeting of the Oratorio Society in Los Angeles Monday evening. Both young ladies are interested in voice culture.

Miss Genevieve Baggs of 332 West Acacia avenue is confined to her home with a slight attack of appendicitis.

Mrs. E. R. Stauffer and small son, of East Lomita avenue have been spending several days with Mrs. P. B. Land, 605 North Maryland avenue.

Mrs. Putnam and Miss Burdock's section of the missionary society of the Central Christian church met this afternoon at the home of Miss Burdock, 612 South Glendale avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mercer of 319 North Jackson street had as their dinner guest Sunday, Mrs. C. L. Kemp of 1951 South Fernando road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly of 505 North Brand boulevard attended the Sunday school convention held today at Anaheim. There were about 1200 present.

Mrs. Marion Foley of El Paso, Texas, was the house guest for a few days last week of Mrs. J. E. Wimmer, 312 North Orange street. Mrs. Foley is spending the winter in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Nellie Warner, bookkeeper for the Glendale chamber of commerce, has returned to her work after being confined at home for several days on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Peart and daughters, Eunice and Dorothy, were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hovey of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cronkrite of 217 Milford street will attend the election of officers of Westlake Chapter, O. E. S., in Los Angeles this evening.

Mrs. C. M. Calderwood and Mrs. Henry Yarrick of Glendale will attend the Sunday school convention at Anaheim today, remaining there over Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chamberlain, Mrs. Sherman Bailey, Mrs. D. A. Metzger and Leslie McQueen all of Highland avenue, Glendale, spent the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Henderson of Santa Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cave of 338 West Harvard street leave today for San Diego, where they will attend a concert given by Homer Grunn at the Spreckels theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cave of 333 West Harvard street were guests at a card party Saturday evening of Mrs. Mabel Judd, of South Orange street.

Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and daughter, Miss Myrtle Pulliam, have returned to their home on Arden avenue after a sojourn with Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Legge.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Carpenter of Rhode Island are spending a few days with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bristol Coon of 220 North Orange street. They will spend the winter in Pasadena.

Weary Willies—Chief of Police Allan Martin and Detective Scales visited an old barn near San Fernando road, west of "Broadway," Monday morning and found that seven white men and two negroes were living there. The barn is outside the limits of Glendale and the sheriff was notified. He said that deputies would be sent to the place today and the men removed.

MRS. SOUTHARD WILL PUT TRUST IN GOD FOR VINDICATION WHY ROOSEVELT WAS TURNED DOWN

Has No Ill Feeling Toward Any Who Have Had Part in Her Conviction

TWIN FALLS, Ida., Nov. 8.—"No matter what the verdict the jury may have been, no matter what public opinion is, my conscience is clear with God." This was the declaration of Mrs. Lydia M. Southard, sentenced to serve from 10 years to life in the Idaho state penitentiary for the murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, in an interview with the United Press today.

"I do not want a pardon," she continued, without manifesting any noticeable emotion. "All that I ask is vindication. From my earliest recollection I have been taught to pray, taught to believe in God, that He was my refuge in time of sorrow, in His own due time the world will know that I am an innocent woman."

"My heart bleeds for their hour of shame. In their aged years their heads are bowed, yet I feel they must know I am innocent of the awful crimes with which I have been charged."

"My heart bleeds for the dear boy who left me Saturday. Nothing that has been said against me has changed his love or faith. I only wish that every woman who has been saying things about me, such as some have said, had a husband as true as I."

"Any talk that I will kill myself is foolish. Why should I, an innocent woman, commit suicide? It would be a confession of guilt, in the minds of many, at least."

"I have nothing against Deputy Sheriff Ormsby. He acted the gentleman at all times when he had me in his charge. It was his sworn duty to do what he has done. I have nothing against Judge Babcock. He was fair. I think that whenever he could he gave me the benefit of the doubt."

"Public opinion convicted me, in the minds of many, 24 hours after I was arrested in Honolulu; public opinion in Twin Falls had convicted me before I arrived here in charge of Deputy Sheriff Ormsby; public opinion had convicted me throughout the nation before the first jurymen was selected."

"I pray that I may live long enough to prove, beyond the shadow of doubt, that public opinion has done me an injustice and that the jury was wrong in its verdict."

Town Topics

Red Cross Workers—Mrs. C. L. Peckham, chairman of the Red Cross roll call for Glendale, announces that Mrs. McCann will visit Glendale on November 16 and make an address on Red Cross and its work, in the Glendale high school.

All-Day Meet—Members of the committee for the bride's booth at the Congregational church bazaar will meet for an all-day session Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ray Phillips, 363 Ivy street.

To Honolulu—Mrs. F. M. Gale, sister of Mrs. Charles Stanley of 108 North Everett, with whom she makes her home, is leaving Wednesday on the steamer Manoa for Honolulu where she will spend the winter with friends. She will also visit some of the other islands while there.

Charity Ball—The meeting of the Elks' Club Monday night was a strictly business session, but one of the items considered is of general interest. The date for the charity ball to be given by the order was fixed as November 26. It will be an open affair to which all Glendale will be invited and the proceeds will go to the Christmas fund of the organization.

Luncheon Thursday—Extra holidays have spurred to social endeavor. Miss Sarah Allen is giving a luncheon on Thursday to some of her girl chums, and Misses Dorothy Houston and Winifred Parker are giving a dancing party at the home of Miss Houston Friday evening.

Camp Fire Girls—Camp Fire girls have laid out a full program for Friday. They are to lunch together and attend the football game in a body. They will then have supper together and attend a show afterwards.

DO IT AGAIN
When Masfield, the British poet, visited Yale, he finished his evening's talk and readings earlier than was expected and the chairman of the meeting suggested that the poet should read any poem requested by the audience. The audience, as usually happens, was dumb. It was an awkward moment. Finally one of the younger English department members rushed agitatedly into the breach.

"Won't you please read 'The Tewsbury Road,' Mr. Masfield?" The poet looked amazed, then puzzled, and at last said with a hesitating desire not to offend "these singular Americans."

"Ah—er—I—ah—would be charmed to do so—really—but I've just read it!"

IT CAN HAPPEN.

Philippa—You needn't be afraid to let me go sailing with Jack Higgins. He's a regular old salt.
Her Father—He may be, but sometimes an old salt gets too fresh.

RAIL WAGE MUST BE CUT SAID THORNE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Railroad wages must come down along with other railroad costs in order to permit rate cuts, Clifford Thorne, counsel for the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee. Thorne was arguing for the repeal of the guaranteed return to the railroads, but admitted that the carriers must be permitted to reduce costs in justice to themselves and to the shippers.

AMEN!

"There are two kinds of men in this world," thundered the orator. "There are just two kinds; the rich and the poor!"
"You're wrong!" shouted the barber. "There are two kinds: Those who shave themselves and those who get shaved!"
"You're wrong too," said the manicurist. "There are two kinds: Easy marks and tightwads."
"You are all wrong," said the egotist. "There are two kinds: Myself and others." Which merely goes to show that anything can be proved from the point of view.

and probably still think, that Leonard Wood is the greatest American soldier.

Can't Give Real Reasons.

In view of the records in the case, Washington generally holds today that Mr. Tumulty has failed utterly to give the real reasons for the detention of Leonard Wood on this side of the water. One cannot blanket the facts in the case. They are too well known. Leonard Wood was reprimanded by Lindley M. Garrison, then secretary of war, because of the speech Theodore Roosevelt was allowed to make at Plattsburg, an army post which lay within the limits of Gen. Wood's eastern command.

The things which Roosevelt said at Plattsburg and to which the administration took chief exception were said at the railroad station after leaving the post. Wood really was reprimanded for allowing the colonel to speak on preparedness to the young men who were getting ready to serve their country in the time of need.

SING "I WON'T WORK."
OAKLAND, Nov. 8.—Six alleged I. W. W.s today were sentenced by Superior Judge Samuels to from one to 14 years in San Quentin. They were convicted two weeks ago under the criminal syndicalism law. They marched from the court room after sentence was passed, singing I. W. W. songs.

Change Date—The Central Avenue P.T. A. will meet Wednesday instead of Thursday because Thursday is Institute day.

DO IT NOW!

Build that house now; construct that highway at once; build that school, that church, repair that broken pavement; build that garage, and even that chicken coop, now—not tomorrow.

Go ahead with your plans; speed the nation on the road to full employment and thus hasten the day of individual and national prosperity and safety.

Preach this everywhere; put it into effect, and remember, business men of Glendale, men of "big business" and men of "little business," that there is something in this infinitely higher and more important than the small amount of money involved which you think you could save by waiting.

Some men put off the day of salvation, expecting to attend to it on their death bed, but not many ever succeed in doing it at that hour. "Do it now, and do it with all your might," should be the motto of every man in Glendale who expects to do any construction work in the near future. "Do it now," and thus do your part toward individual and national business salvation—and even more.

Procrastination is more than the thief of time; it is the murderer of opportunity.

Glendale Real Estate

EXPRESS SEEKS TO CO-OPERATE ALWAYS

Pearl Roll Presides at Meeting of Press Chairmen in City

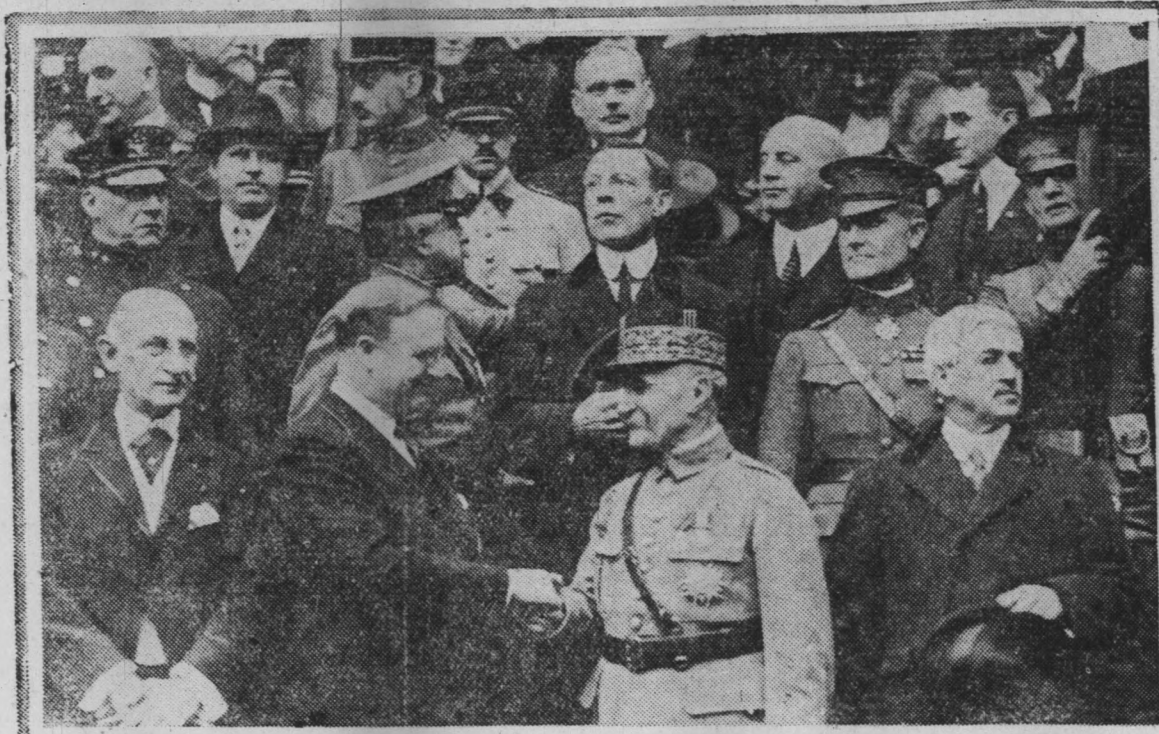

Mrs. W. E. Bruce, press chairman of the Women's Twentieth Century Club, attended the monthly conference of the press chairmen of the Los Angeles district clubs in Los Angeles on Saturday. Miss Pearl Roll of the Express, who is instructor of the chairmen, presided. They felt that they were favored by the presence of Edward A. Dickson and "Bill" Davis of the Express. The editor spoke on the paper's policy of co-operating in all big things projected for the city, and mentioned specifically a coliseum as one of the improvements most essential. He hoped it would be built next year. "Bill" made one of his characteristically amusing speeches. The chairmen, who were in the beginning mostly untrained in newspaper work, receive much valuable information at these conferences.

HELEN PRATT WAS LEADER FIELD DAY

Miss Helen S. Pratt, 245 West Ridgeway avenue, was the leader for the field day of the Los Angeles Audubon Society last Thursday and took the members and their birdlover friends through Eagle Rock park. Equipped with field glasses, the party noted 30 varieties of birds, among them several that are seldom seen outside of canyons. Eagle Rock valley is a favorable locality for bird study, as it is in the line of migration for numerous flocks seeking winter or summer quarters to the north or south. Miss Pratt is a trained nature guide, and chairman of birds and wild life in the state federation of women's clubs, Los Angeles district.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miller, who occupied the C. C. Miller house on North Peyton avenue until the owner and family moved back to Eagle Rock from Glendale, are living in a temporary home on a North Kenilworth avenue lot which they purchased.

THOUSANDS GREET FOCH BY LAND AND SEA

Marshal Foch, Generalissimo of the Allied Armies, upon his arrival in New York, received a welcome such as has not been experienced since the Armistice days of 1918. The thunderous din in the harbor, along the water front and along the line of march of the famed old fighter never has been equalled. Cannon on Governor's Island boomed out a deafening salute, trans-Atlantic steamships with tugs and ferryboats with ear-splitting blasts of their sirens, and hundreds of river and harbor craft of every description sent out a shrill ovation that added to the gigantic roar. The city, state and nation formally greeted the celebrated Marshal when he stepped foot on American shores. The photograph shows Mayor Hylan shaking hands with Marshal Foch. On the right is Governor Miller and on the left Rodman Wanamaker.

THE JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB MET SATURDAY

The Junior Music club met in the Women's clubhouse Saturday for its fortnightly program. The life and compositions of the universally beloved Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond were studied. This club includes girls and boys of from 12 to 18 years of age, who are doing earnest work.

Fay Smith, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Church, 147 Virginia avenue, arrived from Mahomet, Ill., on Saturday to spend the winter and will probably remain permanently.

Ralph Martin, wife and child, who formerly lived on East Park avenue, are living in a newly built home at Tujunga.

SOL GANS HAS SOLD LOT NEXT TO STAND

Will Erect Stand on New Site, Operate Two Places in Near Future.

Sol Gans, the popular proprietor of "The Stand," through Feaster & Witche, has sold his lot adjoining the stand, on South Central avenue, to O. F. Meyer of Glendale for $7600. There is a one-story brick building on it, occupied by the grocery store of Dredge & Crilly and the office of the Southern California Edison company. Dredge & Crilly will conduct the meat market in the big Sam Seelig store now being fitted up in the new Edwards & Wilkey building.

Mr. Gans will personally continue "The Stand" in the northeast corner of the Seelig store, and will move the frame building now used for the business, just south of the Edison office, to a lot owned by him near the corner of Virginia avenue and Colorado boulevard. There another "Stand" will, under a manager, accommodate residents of the east end with "a little of everything," to quote Mrs. Gans. The structure will be enlarged and remodeled.

PASSION PLAY IS THEME OF SERMON

Dr. Hadlock Shows Pictures of Great Production on Sunday

As a part of the Sunday evening service in the Congregational church Dr. E. Harvey Hadlock of Washington, D. C., lectured on the world-famous Passion Play of Oberammergau, Bavaria, and showed 125 beautiful pictures on the screen, most of which were secured from Anton Lang, the Christus of the play in 1900 and 1910 and again to enact the part next year when with indomitable will the residents of the little mountain village, prosperous before the war but reduced to severe straits by the conflict, will give the performance that of necessity postponed from the regular time, 1920.

Dr. Hadlock was active abroad in Red Cross work during the war, and was afterward with the American forces on the Rhine. He also visited Poland to aid the distressed people. He gave an interesting account of the difficulties he encountered in entering Germany after the armistice, starting from Paris. Hymns thrown on the screen were sung by the congregation and Mrs. Paul Elderkin sang "The Ninety and Nine" with thrilling expression. The auditorium and lecture room of the church, thrown together, were both crowded.

PERSONALS

Private P. B. Rhodes, stationed at Fort McArthur, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sexton, at 810 Bellevue avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rowan of Mojave were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burlando, at their pretty new home, 131 South Royal drive.

Mrs. L. V. Moulden, who has been away a couple of months visiting her son at St. Paul, Minn., and attending the G. A. R. encampment in Indianapolis, has returned to her home on North Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Williams and daughter Velnette of Ridgeway avenue, motored to San Gabriel Sunday to visit old Kansas City friends who have a chicken ranch there.

Ground was broken yesterday morning for the stucco building on East Colorado boulevard, between Townsend and Virginia avenues, which is to contain two stores. W. Momeyer is the owner.

H. G. Church, who is now occupying the bungalow at 147 Virginia avenue, is building a home on West Adams avenue and expects it to be completed by the first of December. He is so busy in his contracts as a plasterer that he is obliged to employ five men.

C. E. Palmateer, the east end furniture man, has bought of M. A. Brothers, a former railway conductor, a lot at the corner of Townsend and East Park avenue on which are two small houses. Mr. Brothers has built a home at Tujunga and opened an oil station there.

J. A. Allspaugh of the Eagle Rock drygoods store, is constructing a house at 229 North Kenilworth avenue.

COST OF LIVING IN 1823 SCANDALOUS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 8.—Miss Elizabeth McIllyar has a day-book which was kept by her grandfather, Thomas McIllyar, who operated a shoe and bootmakers' shop on the lot where the family residence stands. He came here in 1812.

The book, for 1823, shows that 25 cents was charged for soles of a pair of shoes and 62½ cents for making a pair of fine shoes. In return for such work payment consisted of 25 pounds of flour, valued at 5½ cents; 10½ pounds of beef, valued at 28½ cents; a pint of peach brandy, worth 12½ cents; a quart of whiskey, 12½ cents; a gallon of whiskey, at 37½ cents. In addition to these credit items the book shows that coffee sold at 37½ cents, or about what it sells for now.

The cast has been carefully chosen and every one included has previously had some experience on the stage.

CHARLES GOETZ TO ERECT FINE HOME

In about three weeks Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goetz, now living in Watts, expect to begin the construction of a fine home on the very top of the high steep hill just south of Stanley avenue, between Royal drive and Satsuma avenue. Work on a driveway has begun. It is a beautiful hill and commands on of the most extensive views in the valley.

Mrs. J. G. Finley of Long Beach was a recent guest of Mrs. A. G. Reilly at 550 East Colorado boulevard.

YOUNG MATRONS TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

The Young Matrons' Society of the Congregational church will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donovan Harden on Oak Grove avenue, in Rockdale. The society was organized last year by Mrs. M. T. Lee, then president of the Ladies' Aid Society, and has promoted acquaintance and sociability among the young women of the church.

W. A. Denman is building another new house on South Royal drive.

CHENOWETH MAKES HIT WITH TEACHERS

Summer Schools on Full Pay is Plan He Hopes Will Come Soon

"The mind of the child is absorbed with the language your own personality speaks."

Personality, rather than words and book teaching as the means of reaching the children, was the general theme of the inspiring address given by Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools to the teachers of Burbank, Monday, at the institute held in the grammar school building.

Mr. Keppel laid emphasis upon the inestimable good which teachers may accomplish through their personality, inspiration that could never be transmitted from books alone, and urged upon his listeners the thought that it was the main business of teachers to kindle the immortal fires which no adversities could put out. Another thought in connection with the close relation between pupils and teachers was that of absolute honesty. "Remember," Mr. Keppel said, "You cannot put anything over on children. You may put something over on me but not on a child. That child may not say anything to you about it, but he is watching for the next time when you will try to fool him." The speaker also warned the teachers to be careful that their words be not bitter and cutting. He assured them that they might punish physically with no permanent results, but words had their lasting effect. "You may cut a man's hand severely and it will heal, but you can plant a word in that man's soul that will never heal," he added. "Teachers are next to God in the mind of the child and the personality of the teacher is eternal."

Mr. Keppel had considerable to say in his address relative to the salaries of the teachers and the method of drawing the warrants. Pointing out the flaws in the present system, he related incidents where teachers had not immediately presented their warrants and when they did there was no money left in the treasury with which to pay them, and also of school boards which carelessly wrote warrants right and left when there was no money with which to cash these warrants. He said the ideal system was for the warrants to be sent to the county superintendent and auditor for their approval, after which they would be returned. Under this system no warrants would be issued when there was no money to back them.

County Superintendent Keppel is not always able to attend the local institutes and the teachers of Burbank considered themselves especially favored and honored in having the privilege of listening to him, who speaks so simply but touchingly and from such wide experience and a sympathetic outlook upon life.

Preceding Mr. Keppel, a very interesting talk was given by L. E. Chenoweth, superintendent of schools of Kern county. In the beginning of his address he brought cheers from his audience by his statement that he hoped to see the time when institutes

FOUNDATION WORK NOW COMPLETED

New Industry for Burbank Will Mean Much to All Lines Here

The foundation for the building to be erected by the American Aluminum Work is now completed and the plans for the remainder of the building will soon be ready for bids.

This is another large enterprise belonging in Burbank which means much to the city as it will increase the payroll and add to the demand for homes. This in turn, will provide more work for builders as well as to thicken up the present built-up section and extend it farther into the outskirts.

GET OPEN SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The senate today adopted the resolution by Senator Pat Harrison, requesting the American delegates to use their influence to have representatives of the press admitted to the disarmament conference and that a complete record of the proceedings of the conference be kept. The resolution was adopted by a viva voce vote.

would give place to summer schools which the teachers would attend on full pay. Referring to salaries he insisted that there must be no amendments derogatory to the law affecting the salaries of the teachers of the state and that the use of funds for the schools must not be curtailed.

Mr. Chenoweth took up the subject of housing for teachers and in this, took issue with the attorney general whom he quoted as saying that there was no law under which a house could be built out of school funds, for teachers. "We may erect buildings for autos and horses which children use in getting to school, but we may not build a roof for the teachers," he said. As one result of the poor housing opportunities endured by many teachers, the tendency was for these teachers to look up their school at the end of the school day and go at once to the nearest town or city, returning only until time to unlock the door. This resulted, he said, in a lack of cooperation between the neighborhood and the teacher which was most detrimental. He urged that, on the other hand, while the school had great responsibilities and the teachers should should willingly shoulder all that belonged to them, the teachers should, themselves, educate the public to the idea that there were other sources of responsibility, such as the home and the church. The speaker closed his address with a few remarks on the meaning of success, and gave his audience a new way of spelling the word—a characteristic for each letter—service, uprightness, character, courage, education, simplicity and sincerity.

The institute held yesterday was the second of five to be held through the year. The other three will be conducted in Los Angeles, December 22, 23 and 24.

TURKEY INDUSTRY IS GROWING FAST

P. J. Morgan of Grismer avenue has decided that there is a great industry yet to be developed in Burbank. It is that of raising turkeys. He thinks the climate of this city is just suited to their tender natures, and he ought to know for he has tried it. He has over 80 and at six months of age they average twenty pounds. He raises them with turkey mothers.

THE EVENING STORY

OLD FLAMES

(Copyright, 1921, by W. Werner)

Myrtle Bly was planting arum-lily bulbs that sunny October morning when Corp. Hotchkiss came into the yard. Excitement flattered in the feather on Cora's smart hat, wiggled in the fringe of her skirt, snapped in her big black eyes. At 48 she was a handsome woman, and Myrtle, looking up from where she knelt, said so. "I declare, Cora, the older you get the better looking you are!" she exclaimed.

Mrs. Hotchkiss—she had been a widow long enough to do without the slightest semblance of a weed—laughed. "That doesn't speak very well for my youth, or else it bids me look a long way forward. Do you expect me to live to be a hundred? Get up, Myrt, out of the dirt this instant. I've something to tell you."

Myrtle arose. She was a merry old maid of 47, with blond hair that was only pleasantly gray and a figure that had all the roundness of a Dutch cheese. In her way she was even handsomer than her friend. "Let's sit down on the bench," she invited. "Now what's your news?"

"Take a good long breath first, for I'm going to take your breath away. Gus Cody is in town!"

"No! You don't say so!" Myrtle stared at Cora.

"He's visiting at the Redfields. You know, Helen Redfield is his cousin. That's ancient history. I've seen him. In fact, I met him on my way here. He asked after you."

Myrtle laughed. "What does he look like?" she asked curiously.

"Like a very dignified and reverend gentleman. But you will see for yourself. I've invited him to my house for dinner to-night, and you must come, too."

Myrtle was silent at first; then she reached forth, pulled a rose from a bush and gave it to Cora. The little interlude covered her embarrassment. "I'll come, of course," she replied. "But won't it seem queer for us three to be together again?"

"Well," Cora sighed—"he may have forgotten—if one ever does forget such things—how you and I used to fight over him. We got quite tragic. I always thought that was why he went away. He was always so timid. I suppose we did cut up awful, but honest Myrt, I was dead in love with him."

"So was I," Myrtle confessed. "That wasn't why I didn't marry somebody else, though. By the time I'd got over that affair Uncle Tom died and left me all that money. After that freedom seemed pretty sweet. I just couldn't bear to tie myself down. But I must say, Cora, that you were an amazingly successful married woman, and as a widow you can't be surpassed."

"Flatterer!" Cora arose. "Well, fix up your prettiest and come to dinner to-night and we'll see what the Rev. Doctor Cady thinks of us. Myrt, one thing more. Doesn't it seem queer that after the open feud of our girlhood days because of that man we should have become such warm friends, such amicable companions? I can't imagine our having a word now, can you?"

"Time has seasoned us," Myrtle

REAL ESTATE HERE IS GOING RAPIDLY

Buyers for Homes in Majority Over Buyers for Investment Only

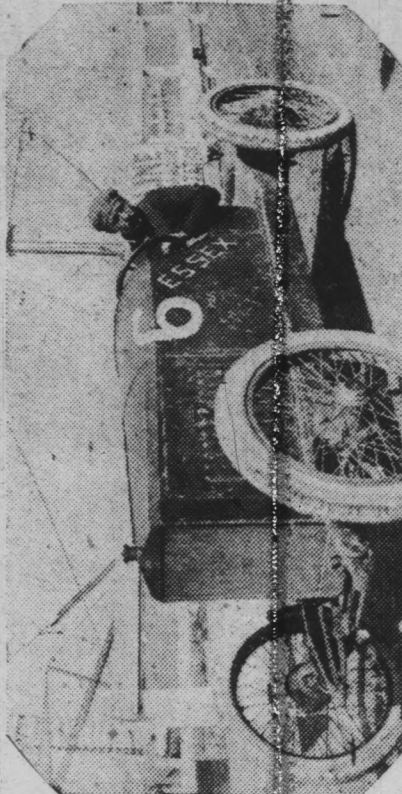

The activity in real estate in Burbank appears to increase with each passing day. It is the subject of most frequent comment both with the hundreds of new-comers and also the citizens of longer residence here. The new-comers are looking for immediate homes and many of the older residents are selling their property with the expectation of rebuying but more extensively.

Several properties have recently changed hands through the agency of the California Real Estate company. One such transaction is the purchase of five acres in Hanson Heights by J. K. Green who is coming here from Glendale. He will immediately improve this with a modern 6-room bungalow. He will utilize most of the acreage for the raising of Irish potatoes.

C. M. Kirk of Redondo has purchased two lots on the corner of Sixth street and Orange street.

A. E. Bailey, 253 San Jose avenue, has sold his place to A. L. Rogers of Wilmington. Mr. Bailey is building a new home on Magnolia avenue.

An acre of ground at Tenth street and Alameda avenue has just been bought by N. B. Spurrier, who plans to build a nice home on it in the spring.

Four dollars a day will be the standard harvest wage in western Canada this year, according to an announcement by the provincial employment bureau.

other until laughter brought relief. Tears mingled with the laughter. They were both close to hysterics. They were interrupted by the maid, who came to say that Mrs. Redfield had telephoned a message. "The dear doctor was sorry to disappoint, but an unexpected attack of vertigo prevented him from keeping his engagement."

"Vertigo!" exclaimed Myrtle. "He must know that we both saw him at the door," said Cora. The two friends sank upon a sofa. "Well," Cora said at length, "he's not a good dinner. I happen to know that Helen Redfield isn't much of a cook and my Olga is. Roast duck and fairy banquet pudding! I dare say we shall be able to enjoy it without him."

"Perhaps," Myrtle said slowly, "we may enjoy it all the better. Wouldn't it have been awful, Cora, if by his coming he should have got us into a rumput again?"

Cora gave Myrtle a long look before she understood. "Wouldn't it?" she murmured.

Miss Caroline Ewen Leaves Will Directing Proceeds of Estate to Cat Care

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The cat world was agog recently over the gift of $60,000 obtained at an auction sale of the Ewen homestead in Spuyten Duyvil. Thus the dream of Miss Caroline Ewen is about to be realized, and the conclusion is written of as tangled and weird a story as the records of the Surrogate's Court can show.

Cynics scoffed at the consuming passion of this queer old woman's life, her desire to house stray cats and to provide them with every comfort. During her life she and her sisters established sanitariums for cats, contributed to organizations that provide for stray cats, thought of and lived for cats.

When she died her will provided that all but $500 be given to organizations opposed to vivisection and to sanitariums, homes and societies for cats. Her two sisters, who figured later in contests, were cut off—Louise Ewen because she had married the bogus Baron Otto von Koenitz, a German ex-convict.

Despite this, Louise Ewen carried on the work of alleviating the miseries of the stray cat. She, too, was known by the children of the neighborhood in which she lived as one who would give all of ten cents for each feline wanderer in the streets—a source of profitable income.

Later Louise died, and she left most of her money to her sister, Elizabeth, with a provision for her pets. Both wills were contested by John Ewen, the nephew. Louise's will was upheld, and the contest over Caroline's was settled out of court.

Various personalities figured in the contest over the will of Louise—a clergyman, who acted as her nurse; the bogus baron and others who paid court to her because of her wealth and eccentricities.

FIND CHARRED BODY.

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo., Nov. 8.—The charred body of William Keough, county assessor of Summit county, was found in the ruins of a house which burned to the ground here early today. Keough's presence in the house has not been explained. The police are conducting an investigation.

ALL BUSINESSES HERE ARE GROWING

Thirty New Phones Installed During Month of October 1921

Real estate men and builders are not the only classes in Burbank who are feeling the effects of the remarkable growth of the city. The telephone company is kept busy filling orders for the installation of phones. It is evident that the newly arrived citizens of the place intend to have talking facilities without having to walk or motor to the party with whom they wish to converse.

In October the telephone company installed 30 new phones in Burbank and so far this month the rate has been even considerably higher. This rate of increase is very apparent in the exchange office where the girls are busy with many more calls than they had a few months ago.

REPAVING WORK IS NEAR COMPLETION

The repaving on Angeleno avenue goes on apace and the work now being done on it is between San Fernando boulevard and the railroad tracks. Oil and gravel will be put on as a finishing act, that being completed between Tenth and Sixth streets. The Woodland Heights tract is being leveled and graded by a large force of men who are rapidly putting the ground into condition for the sale of lots. This is a project of private capital, but it is of interest to the city inasmuch as it will open up the site for many new homes which are so greatly needed here where every day adds to the list of those who are seeking a residence and a spot on which to build a home.
